Hoffa Is Indicted For Sixth Time

Labor Leader, 7 Others Accused Of Loan Fraud

CHICAGO AP) — James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters' Union, was indicted Tuesday for the sixth time in six years.

A federal grand jury accused the 50-year-old labor leader and seven associates—real estate and building operators, one lawyer, one accountant and one business man now imprisoned—of tapping a rich union pension fund for $20 million in loans fraudulently obtained.

Conviction on all 28 counts of the indictment could mean penalties totaling 140 years imprisonment and $37,000 in fines for each of the eight men.

The 53-page indictment returned before Judge Joseph S. Perry in U.S. District Court accused Hoffa and his seven co-defendants of diverting more than $1 million from the loans for their personal benefit.

Two-Year Investigation

The indictment climaxed two years of investigation by the FBI. The grand jury began hearing evidence in the case in August 1962.

In Washington, Hoffa was unavailable for comment on the latest indictment. His office said there would be "no comment at this time."

Other federal indictments are pending against Hoffa in Nashville, Tenn., and Tampa, Fla.

The newest indictment charges Hoffa diverted at least $100,000 from the loans to extricate himself from personal financial involvement in Sun Valley, Inc., a housing development for retired persons in Brevard County, Fla.

Those accused with Hoffa are:

Benjamin Dranow, 55, former Minneapolis department store official now serving a sentence in the federal prison at Sandstone, Minn., for mail, wire and bankruptcy fraud, and tax evasion.

Retired Furrier Named

Abe I. Weinblatt, 67, Miami Beach, Fla., a retired New York furrier and associate of Dranow.

S. George Burris, 65, a New York City accountant.

Herbert R. Burris, 41, New York City, a lawyer and son of the elder Burris.

Samuel Hyman, 69, Miami Beach, a real estate operator in Key West.

Calvin Kovens, 39, president of Cal Kovens Construction Corp., and Ruedd, Inc., Miami Beach.

Zachary A. Strate Jr., 43, a builder and real estate operator in New Orleans.

The government charges Hoffa maneuvered loans from the Central States, Southeast and Southwest Areas Pension Fund, which has its headquarters in Chicago and of which Hoffa is a trustee.

U.S. Seeking 10 To 15 New Astronauts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The federal space agency said Tuesday it will recruit 10 to 15 new astronauts this summer and invited applications from qualified persons, including civilians.

The new group of astronauts will be the third since the United States moved into the manned space field. In addition to the original group of seven astronauts, tne National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) now is training a group of nine, including two civilians.

Although the latest announcement invited civilian applications, the requirements virtually bar the door to all but professional jet pilots. Candidates must have engineering or physical science degrees, have at least 1,000 hours of time behind the controls of a jet or be qualified experimental test pilots.

Soviet Bombers Make Overflight Of U.S. Carrier

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Six Russian twin-jet planes made an aerial inspection of the U. S. aircraft carrier Ranger in the Pacific early Tuesday, the Navy said. It was the first Soviet pass over U. S. Navy ships since mid-March.

The Navy said the overflights were made in international waters. The Soviet planes appeared to have difficulty seeing the Ranger in overcast weather at the scene and one of them made a low pass over the carrier, the Ranger reported to Navy headquarters.

The Russians were spotted on the ship's radar and were promptly "intercepted by escorting planes" launched from the carrier by the time the Red craft were 65 to 100 miles from the ship.

The incident occurred 330 miles east of Japan as the Ranger was proceeding homeward on the great circle route after having been with the U. S. Seventh Fleet in the Far East.

The announcement emphasized that "the overflights were made over international waters where the Russian aircraft has every legal right to be."

The last previous such overflight was above the carrier Constellation, and was carried out by four-engined Russian "Bear" aircraft.

In January and February, the U. S. carriers Forrestal, Kitty Hawk, Princeton and the nuclear powered Enterprise were overflown. The Enterprise and the Forrestal were in the North Atlantic, while the Kitty Hawk and Princeton were in the North Pacific.

Missing Plane Sought In Clay, W. Va., Area

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The West Virginia Civil Air Patrol said Tuesday a search for a small, private plane missing since Monday night has centered around Clay, Clay County, about 40 miles from here.

The CAP was hindered in its search Tuesday by inclement weather which grounded all its aircraft. However, mobile units were moved into the vicinity of Clay.

The pilot of the plane was Vernon Pelizarri, 51, of Sebring, Ohio, and the passenger was Edward Beltrami, 50, of Alliance, Ohio.

Atlas Launched

Body Placed On Catafalque In St. Peter's

Spiritual Leader Of Catholics To Lie In State Two Days

By EUGENE LEVIN

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII lay in state Tuesday night under the towering dome of St. Peter's Basilica, flanked by the empty seats of his Ecumenical Council and mourned by millions around the world.

The great bell of St. Peter's tolled Roman Catholicism's hour of grief.

A great Pope who had brought a new image to the papacy was dead.

Pope John XXIII, 261st ruler of the Roman Catholic Church, was carried past about 80,000 mourners on his last trip through St. Peter's Square into Christendom's greatest temple.

There, in deepening shadows of twilight, his body was placed on a catafalque almost over the spot where the Roman Catholic Church believes St. Peter, considered the church's first Pope, was buried.

A few days ago a throne had been in the place of the catafalque. It was the throne Pope John used during the session of the Ecumenical Council. Banks of seats rise on either side down the length of the basilica's main aisle.

Monument To Reign

Now the empty seats stood as a monument to Pope John's reign.

Death had not allowed him to complete his council. But even so it had advanced one of its main goals the promotion of the cause of Christian unity.

He had been the spiritual ruler of the world's half billion Roman Catholics, but his search for Christian unity had won him the admiration of Protestant and Orthodox.

A few months ago there had been cheers in the great square outside as he was carried in triumphant procession into the basilica to pen the council, one of his church's greatest gathering.

The silence Tuesday—as he was borne through the square in death—was as tremendous as the cheers that other day.

Inside the basilica, before the great bronze Bernini canopy with its serpentine columns, he was placed on the catafalque, his head slightly raised.

He wore his golden bishop's miter, a long white silk cassock under crimson episcopal vestments. His red gloved hands were folded over his pectoral cross. Red slippers were on his feet.

Face Serene Dispite Agony

His face was white and serene, without sign of the great suffering he had endured before his death Monday night after four days of terrible agony.

A stomach tumor complicated by peritonitis snuffed out his life at 81.

His death spread deep mourning over the Eternal City and throughout the world, on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

It was mourning that did not wait for the official nine-day mourning period starting Friday, when the faithful of Rome will get a chance to see their dead bishop. As pontiff, Pope John was bishop of Rome.

The Vatican press office had said earlier that the ceremonial staff had fixed the mourning period to start Wednesday. Officials announced the change without specifying why.

It is possible the nine-day mourning period might be inter-

White Woman Seized During Racial Protest

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — A white housewife from Concord, Mass., was arrested and carried bodily to a waiting police wagon Tuesday when she and three Negroes turned up at City Hall during a renewed surge of racial protests in this tense Mississippi capital.

By mid afternoon police had arrested at least 32 of the demonstrators and lodged them at a temporary stockade set up at the state fairgrounds.

Mayor Allen Thompson had claimed Monday that racial protests in Jackson were failing for lack of support, but at one point Tuesday integration leaders had groups of demonstrators moving into the downtown area at 10-minute intervals.

All police cars were sumoned to give assistance.

The white woman who took part in the City Hall demonstration was Mrs. Barbara Massar, 27, wife of a free lance photographer and the mother of two children. She said before leaving Concord last week she intended to join the demonstrations to "bear witness to my support of the civil rights struggle."

At Biloxi, Miss., meanwhile, U. S. District Judge Sidney Mize was expected to formalize his order directing that a second Negro, Cleve McDowell, 21, be admitted to the University of Mississippi.

Mize refused to consider an affidavit submitted by Gov. Ross Barnett claiming that tempers have been so aroused by racial demonstrations in Mississippi that the admittance of McDowell would likely result in "increased unrest and disturbances."

McDowell is due to enter the "Ole Miss" law school Wednesday. The admittance eight months ago of James H. Meredith, the first Negro to attend the school, touched off a bloody riot that cost two lives.

Integration Appeal Made By President

Executives Generally Endorse Plea

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy Tuesday urged 100 prominent executives to blaze the trail for voluntary desegregation of private facilities in the South. He appeared to have convinced a number of them that this should be done promptly.

The President, his brother Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson discussed the civil rights crisis for 45 minutes with executives of firms with outlets throughout the troubled South.

One of them, Milton L. Elsberg of Alexandria, Va., said the general consensus of the executives was that the desegregation requested by the President "must be done and done right now."

Elsberg, president of the Drug Fair Stores, said the tone of the meeting indicated that "this is something which must be done in a matter of days" to counter a rising tide of Negro demands.

Sumner Redstone, president of Redstone Management, Boston, told reporters that the temper of the meeting was a "general endorsement" of the President's proposals and a great deal of approval of the objectives.

The President was reported to have said he realized this would be more difficult in some locales than in others. He said legislation was being contemplated to provide integration in public places because it might be necessary to have the force of law to guarantee equal facilities.

The executives represented movie houses, restaurants, stores, hotels and motels, both individual and chains, which have interstate operations.

Reflecting the President's concern over the nation's current civil rights crisis, the meeting capped a day in which there were these White House developments:

—Kennedy announced he would increase the authority of the President's Committee on Equal Opportunity so it could try to prevent discrimination in construction projects undertaken wholly or in part as a result of federal grant-in-aid programs. He also ordered that all federal construction projects be reviewed to see that there is no discrimination against Negroes, and directed that there be no discrimination in federal apprenticeship programs.

—The White House announced that the President has decided upon the "general broad outline" of new civil rights legislation which he plans to send to Congress next week.

Rail Talk Stepup Asked By Wirtz

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz called Tuesday for a speedup in rail negotiations if an agreement is to be reached on work rule changes before a nationwide strike threat materializes next week.

Wirtz said the negotiators were not moving fast enough. Unless the deadlock is broken, Wirtz said there will not be enough time for the negotiators to "carry this matter to a successful conclusion." The 60-day waiting period under which they are negotiating expires at 12:01 a.m., EDT June 13.

Wirtz made his pessimistic statement Tuesday after a 90-minute meeting with the railroads and five railroad unions. The negotiators met again in the afternoon and adjourned at 6:30 p.m., EDT with agreement to return Wednesday morning.

12-Mile Fishing Limit For Canada

OTTAWA (UPI)—Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson Tuesday announced that his government would establish a 12-mile fishing limit off the Canadian Atlantic and Pacific coasts effective in mid-May of next year.

Pearson made the announcement in the House of Commons and repeated his recent pledge to President Kennedy that historic United States treaty rights in the affected waters would be taken into consideration. At present there is a three-mile limit.

He said discussions would be started soon with the United States and France, the countries most seriously affected, and later with other countries that would be affected.

South Viet Nam Religious Strife Threat To Diem

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —Informed sources said Tuesday that U.S. Air Force planes ferried Vietnamese troops to Hue, Buddhist center 400 miles north of here, where religious strife threatened President Ngo Dinh Diem's government.

More than 60 persons, mostly young Buddhists, were reported hospitalized in Hue with blister gas burns following a violent clash with government troops Monday.

The Rev. Thich Tinh Khiet, Buddhist leader in Hue, was on a hunger strike protesting what he and his followers charge is discrimination against their religion by Diem, a Roman Catholic. Buddhists make up 80 per cent of South Viet Nam's population.

There was growing apprehension that the religious issue was being used to rally all elements—including the Communists—hostile to Diem's pro-Western government. Some charged that the Communists were behind much of the Buddhist agitation, but Buddhist leaders denied any political motivation.

Diem himself seemed more concerned about the potential Buddhist revolt than about the long-drawn-out jungle war against the pro-Communist Viet Cong guerrillas.

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—Police reported Tuesday that 120 persons were killed when religious rioting broke out between rival sects of Moslems in a small Pakistan town.

Police reports, which were sketchy, said 26 other persons were injured in the rioting at Thari, 250 miles north of Karachi.

The reports said "miscreants" molested a religious procession by the Shiite sect of Moslems. The Shiites were observing the beginning of their annual month of mourning commemorating the death of the founder of their religion.

DC7 Crashed Into Sea With Great Impact

Debris And Bits Of Bodies Found By Ships At Scene

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—Debris and bits of bodies were picked up Tuesday from the squally North Pacific where a sudden, mysterious plane disaster sent 101 men, women and children hurtling to their deaths.

There was no hope of survivors. Ships at the scene radioed that "evidence indicated an impact of great force."

The loss Monday of the chartered Northwest Orient Airlines DC7 was the third worst in history involving predominantly military personnel.

The propeller-driven, four-engine airliner fell into the sea from a height of nearly three miles moments after making a routine radio request for a change of altitude. There was no hint of trouble.

Bound For Anchorage

The location was 60 miles off the northern tip of British Columbia's Queen Charlotte Islands and about 175 miles southwest of Ketchikan, Alaska.

The chartered military air transport flight from McChord Air Force Base, near Tacoma, Wash., to Anchorage, Alaska, carried 58 servicemen, 22 military dependents, 15 civilian employes of the Defense Department and their dependents, and a Northwest Airlines crew of six.

Thirteen women, including two stewardesses, and 20 children were aboard. The children ranged in age from 10 months to their late teens.

Seven families were wiped out or left with only one surviving parent. They include 27 of the casualties. Among them were three family groups of five each.

Airman 1.C. Robert D. Scott of Elmendorf Air Force Base, Anchorage, lost his wife and four daughters; M. Sgt. Michael P. Almose of Ft. Richardson, Anchorage, lost his wife and four children.

Weather Not Factor

Together on the plane were William G. Partington, an Air Force civilian employe, his wife and three children.

Most of the 39 Air Force personnel, including a WAF, and the 18 Army men were flying north to new assignments in Alaska. A Coast Guardsman from Seattle was the other military man aboard.

There was no immediate clue to what happened. Officials refused to speculate, but said it was swift and strange. Weather was discounted as a factor, although there was some turbulence and icing conditions at the time.

It was considered certain something went wrong in the plane, itself.

Castro Reports On Trip Via TV

HAVANA (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro wearing Russian medals, went on Cuban television Tuesday night to tell his people about his trip to the Soviet Union and his meetings with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Castro said the secrecy which surrounded his departure and return from Russia was necessary because "we are living 90 miles from imperialism (the United States)."

Wearing his usual olive green fatigues, the bearded Cuban leader began speaking at 8:42 p.m.

Earlier, Cuban newspapers used their biggest type to welcome Castro back from his 37-day tour of Russia. The premier had served notice he had "a lot to say."

Castro's arrival from Russia was as quiet as his departure for Moscow. Strict security precautions surrounded both.

SEC Proposes Sweeping New Laws To Tighten Policing Of Stock Market

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sweeping new laws for tighter policing of the stock market were proposed to Congress on Tuesday. General endorsement of them came quickly from the securities industry.

The bundle of new safeguards for investors was presented by the Securities and Exchange Commission—which on April 3 reported "grave abuses" in the securities markets. Enactment this year was urged by the SEC.

The amendments were quickly introduced in the House by Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., chairman of the Commerce Committee. They represent probably the most thoroughgoing overhaul of the securities laws since their enactment some 30 years ago.

The proposals had no visible impact on the market. The New York Stock Exchange, American Exchange and National Association of Securities Dealers (NASD) immediately issued statements strongly supporting them "in principle."

Although it is late in the session for major legislation and hearings cannot begin until the latter part of July, Harris said: "I hope to get at least some part of this legislation enacted in this session."

Key proposals in the legislative package—described by SEC as constructive and vitally needed—include:

—Bringing some 4,200 corporations whose stock is sold "over the counter"—rather than on organized exchanges—under the same full-disclosure and financial reporting requirements now applied to firms listed on the exchanges and under the same rules governing solicitation and trading in stocks by "insiders."

—Providing for new minimum standards of character, training and financial responsibility for brokerage firms and individuals entering the industry.

—Requiring all broker-dealers registered with the SEC to become members of the self-policing organization of the unlisted securities market, the NASD.

—Giving the SEC broad new disciplinary and enforcement powers, including authority to enforce upon NASD any standards it deems necessary for protection of the public.

—Providing a new weapon against price manipulation—suspected as spurring the spectacular rise in some "hot issues" of recent years—by obliging firms to provide stock prospectuses for not less than 90 days after the stock offering. The present rule is 40 days.

16 Catholic Pilgrims Killed In Bus Plunge

MEXICO CITY (UPI) —Sixteen persons were killed Tuesday, including five children, when a bus chartered by Roman Catholic pilgrims went off the highway near Toluca and plunged 50 feet into a gorge.

Forty-five passengers were injured.

The Catholics were returning to Toluca from the shrine at Chalma. The accident occurred near the Hondito River on the Mexico City-Toluca highway when the bus brakes failed.

Remarriage Hasn't Killed '64 Chances, 'Rocky' Says

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, turning aside speculation that his remarriage had crippled his White House chances, let it be known Tuesday he regards himself as still very much in the running for next year's Republican presidential nomination.

"In regard to 1964, my own position hasn't changed at all," the smiling governor told his first Albany news conference since his wedding a month ago to the former Margaretta (Happy) Murphy.

Rockefeller, who had been considered an undeclared candidate before his remarriage and had said he considered himself in the pool of possibilities, said again "it would be premature" for the GOP to decide for or against any potential candidate at this time.

He said he understood the viewpoint of those who objected to his divorce from his wife of 31 years and marriage to the 36-year-old divorced mother of four children.

"It's very understandable," he said. "One has to see things from others' point of view."

At the same time he indicated he did not accept the argument that his remarriage had destroyed his chances for the presidency.

"That's a personal view," he asserted emphatically. Meanwhile in Watertown, Republican state chairman Fred A. Young said Rockefeller's popularity had suffered as a result of the marriage "but not as much as I initially thought it would."

Rockefeller told reporters, in discussing his ermarriage:

"One has to see life and the problems of life to understand it . . . Love and understanding are the two greatest forces in life."

First Lady Will Have Baby At Walter Reed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy will have her baby, expected in late August, at Walter Reed Army Hospital, the White House said Tuesday.

A spokesman said Mrs. Kennedy will use her own obstetrician, Dr. John W. Walsh.

The First Lady plans to enter the hospital during the last week in August. She will occupy the presidential suite.

The birth will be by caesarian section.

Executives Generally Endorse Plea

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy Tuesday urged 100 prominent executives to blaze the trail for voluntary desegregation of private facilities in the South. He appeared to have convinced a number of them that this should be done promptly.

The President, his brother Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson discussed the civil rights crisis for 45 minutes with executives of firms with outlets throughout the troubled South.

One of them, Milton L. Elsberg of Alexandria, Va., said the general consensus of the executives was that the desegregation requested by the President "must be done and done right now."

Elsberg, president of the Drug Fair Stores, said the tone of the meeting indicated that "this is something which must be done in a matter of days" to counter a rising tide of Negro demands.

Sumner Redstone, president of Redstone Management, Boston, told reporters that the temper of the meeting was a "general endorsement" of the President's proposals and a great deal of approval of the objectives.

The President was reported to have said he realized this would be more difficult in some locales than in others. He said legislation was being contemplated to provide integration in public places because it might be necessary to have the force of law to guarantee equal facilities.

The executives represented movie houses, restaurants, stores, hotels and motels, both individual and chains, which have interstate operations.

Reflecting the President's concern over the nation's current civil rights crisis, the meeting capped a day in which there were these White House developments:

—Kennedy announced he would increase the authority of the President's Committee on Equal Opportunity so it could try to prevent discrimination in construction projects undertaken wholly or in part as a result of federal grant-in-aid programs. He also ordered that all federal construction projects be reviewed to see that there is no discrimination against Negroes, and directed that there be no discrimination in federal apprenticeship programs.

—The White House announced that the President has decided upon the "general broad outline" of new civil rights legislation which he plans to send to Congress next week.

Rail Talk Stepup Asked By Wirtz

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz called Tuesday for a speedup in rail negotiations if an agreement is to be reached on work rule changes before a nationwide strike threat materializes next week.

Wirtz said the negotiators were not moving fast enough. Unless the deadlock is broken, Wirtz said there will not be enough time for the negotiators to "carry this matter to a successful conclusion." The 60-day waiting period under which they are negotiating expires at 12:01 a.m., EDT June 13.

Wirtz made his pessimistic statement Tuesday after a 90-minute meeting with the railroads and five railroad unions. The negotiators met again in the afternoon and adjourned at 6:30 p.m., EDT with agreement to return Wednesday morning.

12-Mile Fishing Limit For Canada

OTTAWA (UPI)—Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson Tuesday announced that his government would establish a 12-mile fishing limit off the Canadian Atlantic and Pacific coasts effective in mid-May of next year.

Pearson made the announcement in the House of Commons and repeated his recent pledge to President Kennedy that historic United States treaty rights in the affected waters would be taken into consideration. At present there is a three-mile limit.

He said discussions would be started soon with the United States and France, the countries most seriously affected, and later with other countries that would be affected.

South Viet Nam Religious Strife Threat To Diem

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Informed sources said Tuesday that U.S. Air Force planes ferried Vietnamese troops to Hue, Buddhist center 400 miles north of here, where religious strife threatened President Ngo Dinh Diem's government.

More than 60 persons, mostly young Buddhists, were reported hospitalized in Hue with blister gas burns following a violent clash with government troops Monday.

The Rev. Thich Tinh Khiet, Buddhist leader in Hue, was on a hunger strike protesting what he and his followers charge is discrimination against their religion by Diem, a Roman Catholic. Buddhists make up 80 per cent of South Viet Nam's population.

There was growing apprehension that the religious issue was being used to rally all elements—including the Communists—hostile to Diem's pro-Western government. Some charged that the Communists were behind much of the Buddhist agitation, but Buddhist leaders denied any political motivation.

Diem himself seemed more concerned about the potential Buddhist revolt than about the long-drawn-out jungle war against the pro-Communist Viet Cong guerrillas.

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—Police reported Tuesday that 120 persons were killed when religious rioting broke out between rival sects of Moslems in a small Pakistan town.

Police reports, which were sketchy, said 26 other persons were injured in the rioting at Thari, 250 miles north of Karachi.

The reports said "miscreants" molested a religious procession by the Shiite sect of Moslems. The Shiites were observing the beginning of their annual month of mourning commemorating the death of the founder of their religion.

SEC Proposes Sweeping New Laws To Tighten Policing Of Stock Market

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sweeping new laws for tighter policing of the stock market were proposed to Congress on Tuesday. General endorsement of them came quickly from the securities industry.

The bundle of new safeguards for investors was presented by the Securities and Exchange Commission—which on April 3 reported "grave abuses" in the securities markets. Enactment this year was urged by the SEC.

The amendments were quickly introduced in the House by Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., chairman of the Commerce Committee. They represent probably the most thoroughgoing overhaul of the securities laws since their enactment some 30 years ago.

The proposals had no visible impact on the market. The New York Stock Exchange, American Exchange and National Association of Securities Dealers (NASD) immediately issued statements strongly supporting them "in principle."

Although it is late in the session for major legislation and hearings cannot begin until the latter part of July, Harris said: "I hope to get at least some part of this legislation enacted in this session."

Key proposals in the legislative package—described by SEC as constructive and vitally needed—include:

—Bringing some 4,200 corporations whose stock is sold "over the counter"—rather than on organized exchanges—under the same full-disclosure and financial reporting requirements now applied to firms listed on the exchanges and under the same rule governing solicitation and trading in stocks by "insiders."

—Providing for new minimum standards of character, training and financial responsibility for brokerage firms and individuals entering the industry.

—Requiring all broker-dealers registered with the SEC to become members of the self-policing organization of the unlisted securities market, the NASD.

—Giving the SEC broad new disciplinary and enforcement powers, including authority to enforce upon NASD any standards it deems necessary for protection of the public.

—Providing a new weapon against price manipulation—suspected as spurring the spectacular rise in some "hot issues" of recent years—by obliging firms to provide stock prospectuses for not less than 90 days after the stock offering. The present rule is 40 days.

16 Catholic Pilgrims Killed In Bus Plunge

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Sixteen persons were killed Tuesday, including five children, when a bus chartered by Roman Catholic pilgrims went off the highway near Toluca and plunged 50 feet into a gorge.

Forty-five passengers were injured.

The Catholics were returning to Toluca from the shrine at Chalma. The accident occurred near the Hondito River on the Mexico City-Toluca highway when the bus brakes failed.

Remarriage Hasn't Killed '64 Chances, 'Rocky' Says

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, turning aside speculation that his remarriage had crippled his White House chances, let it be known Tuesday he regards himself as still very much in the running for next year's Republican presidential nomination.

"In regard to 1964, my own position hasn't changed at all," the smiling governor told his first Albany news conference since his wedding a month ago to the former Margaretta (Happy) Murphy.

Rockefeller, who had been considered an undeclared candidate before his remarriage and had said he considered himself in the pool of possibilities, said again "it would be premature" for the GOP to decide for or against any potential candidate at this time.

He said he understod the viewpoint of those who objected to his divorce from his wife of 31 years and marriage to the 36-year-old divorced mother of four children.

"It's very understandable," he said. "One has to see things from others' point of view."

At the same time he indicated he did not accept the argument that his remarriage had destroyed his chances for the presidency.

"That's a personal view," he asserted emphatically. Meanwhile in Watertown, Republican state chairman Fred A. Young said Rockefeller's popularity had suffered as a result of the marriage "but not as much as I initially thought it would."

Rockefeller told reporters, in discussing his ermarriage:

"One has to see life and the problems of life to understand it . . . Love and understanding are the two greatest forces in life."

Debris And Bits Of Bodies Found By Ships At Scene

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—Debris and bits of bodies were picked up Tuesday from the squally North Pacific where a sudden, mysterious plane disaster sent 101 men, women and children hurtling to their deaths.

There was no hope of survivors. Ships at the scene radioed that "evidence indicated an impact of great force."

The loss Monday of the chartered Northwest Orient Airlines DC7 was the third worst in history involving predominantly military personnel.

The propeller-driven, four-engine airliner fell into the sea from a height of nearly three miles moments after making a routine radio request for a change of altitude. There was no hint of trouble.

Bound For Anchorage

The location was 60 miles off the northern tip of British Columbia's Queen Charlotte Islands and about 175 miles southwest of Ketchikan, Alaska.

The chartered military air transport flight from McChord Air Force Base, near Tacoma, Wash., to Anchorage, Alaska, carried 58 servicemen, 22 military dependents, 15 civilian employes of the Defense Department and their dependents, and a Northwest Airlines crew of six.

Thirteen women, including two stewardesses, and 20 children were aboard. The children ranged in age from 10 months to their late teens.

Seven families were wiped out or left with only one surviving parent. They include 27 of the casualties. Among them were three family groups of five each.

Airman 1.C. Robert D. Scott of Elmendorf Air Force Base, Anchorage, lost his wife and four daughters; M. Sgt. Michael P. Almose of Ft. Richardson, Anchorage, lost his wife and four children.

Weather Not Factor

Together on the plane were William G. Partington, an Air Force civilian employe, his wife and three children.

Most of the 39 Air Force personnel, including a WAF, and the 18 Army men were flying north to new assignments in Alaska. A Coast Guardsman from Seattle was the other military man aboard.

There was no immediate clue to what happened. Officials refused to speculate, but said it was swift and strange. Weather was discounted as a factor, although there was some turbulence and icing conditions at the time.

It was considered certain something went wrong in the plane, itself.

Castro Reports On Trip Via TV

HAVANA (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro wearing Russian medals, went on Cuban television Tuesday night to tell his people about his trip to the Soviet Union and his meetings with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Castro said the secrecy which surrounded his departure and return from Russia was necessary because "we are living 90 miles from imperialism (the United States)."

Wearing his usual olive green fatigues, the bearded Cuban leader began speaking at 8:42 p.m.

Earlier, Cuban newspapers used their biggest type to welcome Castro back from his 37-day tour of Russia. The premier had served notice he had "a lot to say."

Castro's arrival from Russia was as quiet as his departure for Moscow. Strict security precautions surrounded both.

First Lady Will Have Baby At Walter Reed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy will have her baby, expected in late August, at Walter Reed Army Hospital, the White House said Tuesday.

A spokesman said Mrs. Kennedy will use her own obstetrician, Dr. John W. Walsh.

The First Lady plans to enter the hospital during the last week in August. She will occupy the presidential suite.

The birth will be by caesarian section.

Defense Rests Case In Conspiracy Trial

Boykin In Distress On Witness Stand

BALTIMORE (AP) — Questioning of Frank W. Boykin was curtailed Tuesday when the 78-year-old former congressmen from Alabama showed signs of distress in the witness chair and the entire case of four defendants in a conspiracy trial rested a short time later.

The federal government will present a rebuttal Wednesday in the trial which has been going on since April 1.

Boykin and Thomas F. Johnson, ex-congressman from Maryland, were the only two defendants to take the stand in their own defense of charges they were paid to use their influence in seeking dismissal of an indictment of a savings and loan operator.

The operator, J. Kenneth Edlin, 64, of Miami, Fla., did not testify at all. His associate, William L. Robinson, 37-year-old Miami attorney, was on the stand during Johnson's defense.

Boykin and Johnson, both Democrats, were defeated in bids for re-election last year. Most of their contacts with the Justice Department in regard to Edlin were in 1961. Edlin pleaded no contest to his 1959 indictment for mail fraud early last year and served five months in prison.

During Boykin's first hours on the stand Monday, U.S. District Judge Roszel C. Thomsen frequently called for recesses when the white-haired witness appeared excited.

While under cross-examination Tuesday by U.S. Atty. Joseph D. Tydings, Boykin fumbled for some pills in a small box in his coat pocket. The judge quickly called a recess. Boykin's wife and a U.S. marshal went to his side.

George Cochran Doub, attorney for Johnson, took up the questioning. After a couple, Boykin appeared in distress and Tydings arose to suggest another five-minute recess.

All attorneys convened at the bench for a conference. When the trial resumed, Doub asked Boykin only two more questions. Boykin was excused and his lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, announced he had no more witnesses.

The government claims that $250,000 Boykin received from Edlin were in return for favors to be sought from the Justice Department.

"It was no novelty for me to go to the attorney general," Boykin testified. "I've been doing it for 28 years and to other departments of the government, too."

He served 28 years before losing in a primary run-off election last May. Johnson, 53, served two terms.

Boykin referred himself to his health when Tydings sought to compare his testimony at the trial with what he told the federal grand jury last fall.

"Now wait a minute," interrupted Boykin. "You know how sick I was then, you helped me up on the stand. I collapsed in my car after I left the grand jury."

Boykin had maintained the $250,000 paid him by Edlin was part of a legitimate transaction in which Edlin was acquiring a mortgage on land owned by the congressman in Maryland and Virginia.

Johnson's defense was that several thousands of dollars paid him were for legal services.

Both insisted they went to the Justice Department to ask only either for a review of Edlin's indictment or a delay in trial until the land deals were consummated.

Body Recovered

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The body of James H. Lloyd, 44, of Severna Park was found by a Department of Tidewater Fisheries patrol boat in waters off Bay Shore Park Tuesday afternoon.

The agency said Lloyd had been missing since he left Cypress Creek on the Magothy River in a 25-foot boat on May 27.

Annual Session Of Methodists Will Open Today

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) — Holy Communion and a memorial service, with Bishop John Wesley Lord presiding, will formally open the 179th Baltimore Annual Conference of the Methodist Church Wednesday.

More than 700 ministers and laymen are expected to attend the five-day conference on the campus of Western Maryland College.

A service of ordination Sunday afternoon will end the conference. At a worship service to be broadcast that morning, with Bishop Lord preaching the sermon, ministerial appointments for the year will be read.

The first order of business after the conference convenes will be an organizational session and initial voting for delegates to the General Conference of the church set for April, 1964, in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Bishop Newell S. Booth, missionary bishop of Methodist work in the Republic of the Congo (Leopoldville) will address the conference twice on Friday. A missionary in the Congo since 1930, he was made a bishop of the church in 1944 and has headquarters at Elisabethville in Katanga Province.

On Thursday, the Mutual Relief Society Dinner at Westminster Methodist Church will be addressed by former governor Theodore R. McKeldin, mayor of Baltimore.

Charles C. Parlin of New York City will speak at a Friday night session of the conference after the election of conference and district lay leaders. The conference is divided into six districts.

Much of the business of the conference will consist of hearing reports from various boards and committees dealing with such subjects as education, salaries, lay activities, evangelism, pensions and missionaries.

SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI)—The 136-ton Japanese fishing vessel Kaiyo Maru sank Tuesday off San Juan after a collision with the 20,000-ton Italian tanker Fina Italia.

The U.S. Coast Guard said 11 persons had been taken off the Japanese vessel, one of them in serious condition. A search was begun by planes and ships for 14 others.

Maryland News In Brief

CAMBRIDGE (AP) — Army PFC John D. Weber, listed among the passengers aboard an airliner that crashed off the Alaskan coast, had ended a visit to his East New Market, Md., home last Saturday.

Weber, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Weber, had been home on leave since May 9 when he left Saturday to return to Alaska. A graduate of North Dorchester High School, the 18-year-old soldier had been stationed in Alaska since November.

Webb enlisted in the Army in June of last year. He is one of five children in the Weber family, which moved to East New Market from Tipton, Pa., in 1952.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Western Maryland distributing utilities which received natural gas rate refunds from interstate pipelines passed along the refunds to their customers, while a third retained the refund.

The Power Commission said the two which turned over the refunds to customers were the Washington Gas Light Co., refunded $208,308, and the Hagerstown Gas Co., with a refund of $23,771. Frederick Gas Co. retained its refund of $2,358, the commission said.

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Sheriff William B. Huggins, administrator of the Anne Arundel County Jail, said Tuesday he would urge county health officials to condemn the 62-year-old jail as a health menace.

"I am very much afraid that an epidemic might break out at the jail because of the dilapidated plumbing," said Sheriff Huggins.

"It's like an outdoor outhouse, complete with odors."

TOWSON, Md. (AP) — A college freshman from Prince Georges County has been censured by a Baltimore County magistrate for leaving Nazi-style notes in a doughnut shop on York Road.

"Your actions leave a lot to be desired," Magistrate William S. Baldwin told the defendant, Charles C. Smith, 18, of Cheverly, in dropping a disorderly conduct charge against him. He attends Towson Teachers College.

The target of the notes was Mrs. Eva Williams, a Polish immigrant. She lost relatives in the Nazi extermination camp at Auschwitz.

BALTIMORE (AP) — A committee of the Maryland State Bar Association is urging that the Legislative Council be asked to consider two alternate moves aimed at improving domestic and family litigation in Maryland.

One proposal put before the association's membership would have the governor appoint a commission to study the need for a statewide family court.

The other suggests the council consider a statewide enabling act which would authorize any political subdivision to adopt its own family court system if it appeared to be needed.

Edward W. Cooey of Hagerstown is among the committee members.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Sgt. 1.C. James G. Plummer of the Maryland National Guard has been selected to brief President Kennedy on the chief executive's visit to the North American Air Defense Command at Colorado Springs, Colo., this month.

Sgt. Plummer, a Baltimorean, is a member of Headquarters Battery, First Missile Battalion, 70th Artillery. Employed as a technician for the Nike defense sites in the Baltimore-Washington area, he is a graduate of the Air Defense School.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Dr. James A. Shannon, director of the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, will be the speaker Friday for Dean's Day at the University of Maryland School of Medicine.

Dr. Shannon has devoted his professional career to medical research. Director of NIH since 1955, he has done original research in kidney function, chemotherapy and malaria.

PIKESVILLE, Md. (AP) — In nine fatal accidents on Maryland highways last week, Maryland State Police reported Tuesday, alcohol was a contributing factor in six of the deaths, speed in five and driver error in five.

"Fatigue, inattention and rush contribute generously to highway accidents," said Maj. George E. Davidson, field commander.

"All trips — both business and pleasure — should not be taken without proper rest and without sufficient time, which includes allowing for possible delays."

Kennedy Opens Hunger Attack

WASHINGTON (AP)—"A hungry people listens not to reason, nor cares for justice, nor is bent by prayers."

President Kennedy harkened back to the Roman philosopher Seneca for those words to open the World Food Congress—a United Nations global attack against hunger.

"Human nature," the President added, "has not changed in 1900 years."

"So long as freedom from hunger is only half achieved—so long as two-thirds of the nations of the world have food deficits—no citizen, no nation can afford to feel satisfied or secure," the President said.

He pointed to the U.S. Food-For-Peace program which in the past decade, he said, has sent $12 billion of food and fiber to needy nations.

The President, whose Tuesday talk is being rebroadcast via Relay I satellite to seven European countries, said the U.S. program now provides food for 100 million people in 100 countries.

Accommodation Law Vote Action Due Next Week

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — State officials indicated Tuesday it will be next week at the earliest before they take any action on petitions aimed at forcing a referendum on Maryland's public accommodations law.

Civil rights groups screening the petitions claim they have found more than enough legally defective signatures or sheets of signatures to invalidate the petition drive and allow the law to take immediate effect.

They were uncovering further alleged discrepancies Tuesday and will not complete their screening before Wednesday afternoon or Thursday.

Secretary of State Lloyd L. Simpkins said his office will begin counting names on the petitions after the civil rights groups have completed their checking.

He said where legal flaws are obvious, the names will not be counted in determining whether there are enough signatures to meet requirements for a referendum on the bill.

Law requires that for a statewide bill to go on referendum there must be petitions signed by 23,080 registered voters. More than half of these (11,541) had to be submitted by June 1—the effective date of the act—and the remainder by July 1.

The Maryland Petition Committee, leading a drive against the public accommodations bill, filed petitions containing 12,325 names last Friday night, minutes before the act was to take effect. This was 824 more than required—if all were valid.

Baltimore attorney Hyman Pressman, and civil rights groups represented by him, descended on the secretary's office Monday morning to begin gathering information for a legal challenge of the petitions.

They uncovered 1,551 names the first day which they said failed on their face to comply with the law, and they had gone through less than half of the petitions.

Gas Price War Probe Sought

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — An independent oil company of Baltimore asked a federal court Tuesday to order a grand jury investigation of what the company described as a gas price war in Maryland.

The petition, by A. & H. Transportation, Inc., headed by Harry Waller as president, was argued before the U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals.

The company contends that for some years major oil companies have been engaged in a price war in Maryland.

The big companies, the petition said, are in conspiracy to monopolize the marketing of refined petroleum products with the "intent to injure, destroy and eliminate" the small dealers.

Government counsel argued that the appeals court cannot order a district court to summon a grand jury except to correct serious abuses which the government said do not exist in this case.

Tax Extension Voted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Ways & Means Committee Tuesday approved 19 to 6 a bill to extend for one year present corporate tax rates and current federal levies on liquor, cigarettes, telephone calls, automobiles and airline tickets.

Scientists Report Water In Atmosphere Of Mars

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—There definitely is water in the atmosphere of Mars, but not enough to even wet the "canals" that astromers once thought criss-crossed the planet.

That word came Tuesday from researchers at the California Institute of Technology. Their report said there is so little Martian water vapor—1,000 to 2,000 times less than on earth—that it never rains or snows.

If it all condensed on the surface, it would be but three-thousandths of an inch deep.

The scientists also reported that carbon dioxide, a gaseous component of the earth's atmosphere, is much more concentrated on Mars than previously supposed.

They concluded that the water-carbon dioxide combination creates a "greenhouse effect" that admits sunlight but prevents solar heat from radiating back into space, making Mars warmer than it otherwise would be. It still, however, would have a daytime maximum temperature of 70 degrees and be much colder at night.

What effect do the findings have on the possibility of life on Mars, long a subject of speculation?

The scientists said only that all known life processes use water, and life would be much less likely if no water had been found.

The report is based on data obtained under near-perfect atmospheric conditions with a large spectrograph and the 100-inch Hooker telescope of the Mt. Wilson and Palomar observatories.

Drs. Lewis D. Kaplan, Guido Munch and Hyron Spinrad said that while the existence of Martian water vapor has been conjectured, there has been no previous direct evidence because there is so little of it. Detection is complicated because there is so much moisture in the earth's atmosphere.

4 Mine Employes Indicted In Wake Of Pa. Mine Blast

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (AP) — A Superintendent and three employes at the vast U. S. Steel Corp. Robena coal complex, site of a mine explosion which killed 37 men, were indicted Tuesday for violating state bituminous mining laws.

A Greene County grand jury, which heard testimony on the case during two days, returned the indictments against superintendent Michael Wydo, mine foreman Marion Misiak, assistant mine foreman Albert H. Dillow and electrician Stanley Boskovich.

The charges against the men are not linked directly to the blast last Dec. 6 at nearby Robena Mine No. 3, which the state said was caused by an accumulation of coal dust and methane gas.

The charges against Boskovich, Misiak and Wydo are connected with permitting deteriorated electrical equipment to be used in the southwestern Pennsylvania mine. Dillow is accused of failing to report a dangerous gas condition in the mine.

Md. Boy, 5, Drowns

OWINGS MILLS, Md. (AP)—A 5-year-old boy died late Tuesday afternoon when he fell into a water hole while playing with two other youngsters near here.

Police said Howard Dean Craun fell into the water while he was playing with Michael Thompson, 6, and Michael's brother, David, 5. The boys are all from Owings Mills.

Admiral Urges British Support Polaris Project

LONDON (AP)—An American admiral urged skeptical British defense chiefs to support—and thereby save—President Kennedy's project for a mixed-crew nuclear armada for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

But at the end of Tuesday's intensive political, strategic and technical discussions there was no sign the British had warmed to the idea.

The vice chief of U.S. naval operations, Adm. Claude V. Ricketts, flew in from Washington aiming to dispel some of the doubts and misgivings with which the British view the planned strike-force.

As now foreseen the force would consist of about 25 roving surface ships, carrying eight Polaris missiles each, manned by crews of several NATO ationalities.

Ricketts recently persuaded the West Germans that the force is a workable military proposition.

The free world has a choice of making a basic decision whether or not to build more of the same type of nuclear deterrent systems, or to put some of its money into diversification, he told newsmen on his arrival in London.

"I am not here to put over anything. We are not expecting a cool reception. I have always had a very warm reception in Britain. I am not going to use any arguments. We are just going to have very frank technical discussions."

Defense Rests Case In Conspiracy Trial

Boykin In Distress On Witness Stand

BALTIMORE (AP) — Questioning of Frank W. Boykin was curtailed Tuesday when the 78-year-old former congressmen from Alabama showed signs of distress in the witness chair and the entire case of four defendants in a conspiracy trial rested a short time later.

The federal government will present a rebuttal Wednesday in the trial which has been going on since April 1.

Boykin and Thomas F. Johnson, ex-congressman from Maryland, were the only two defendants to take the stand in their own defense of charges they were paid to use their influence in seeking dismissal of an indictment of a savings and loan operator.

The operator, J. Kenneth Edlin, 64, of Miami, Fla., did not testify at all. His associate, William L. Robinson, 37-year-old Miami attorney, was on the stand during Johnson's defense.

Boykin and Johnson, both Democrats, were defeated in bids for re-election last year. Most of their contacts with the Justice Department in regard to Edlin were in 1961. Edlin pleaded no contest to his 1959 indictment for mail fraud early last year and served five months in prison.

During Boykin's first hours on the stand Monday, U.S. District Judge Roszel C. Thomsen frequently called for recesses when the white-haired witness appeared excited.

While under cross-examination Tuesday by U.S. Atty. Joseph D. Tydings, Boykin fumbled for some pills in a small box in his coat pocket. The judge quickly called a recess. Boykin's wife and a U.S. marshal went to his side.

George Cochran Doub, attorney for Johnson, took up the questioning. After a couple, Boykin appeared in distress and Tydings arose to suggest another five-minute recess.

All attorneys convened at the bench for a conference. When the trial resumed, Doub asked Boykin only two more questions. Boykin was excused and his lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, announced he had no more witnesses.

The government claims that $250,000 Boykin received from Edlin were in return for favors to be sought from the Justice Department.

"It was no novelty for me to go to the attorney general," Boykin testified. "I've been doing it for 28 years and to other departments of the government, too."

He served 28 years before losing in a primary run-off election last May. Johnson, 53, served two terms.

Boykin referred himself to his health when Tydings sought to compare his testimony at the trial with what he told the federal grand jury last fall.

"Now wait a minute," interrupted Boykin. "You know how sick I was then, you helped me up on the stand. I collapsed in my car after I left the grand jury."

Boykin had maintained the $250,000 paid him by Edlin was part of a legitimate transaction in which Edlin was acquiring a mortgage on land owned by the congressman in Maryland and Virginia.

Johnson's defense was that several thousands of dollars paid him were for legal services.

Both insisted they went to the Justice Department to ask only either for a review of Edlin's indictment or a delay in trial until the land deals were consummated.

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The body of James H. Lloyd, 44, of Severna Park was found by a Department of Tidewater Fisheries patrol boat in waters off Bay Shore Park Tuesday afternoon.

The agency said Lloyd had been missing since he left Cypress Creek on the Magothy River in a 25-foot boat on May 27.

Annual Session Of Methodists Will Open Today

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) — Holy Communion and a memorial service, with Bishop John Wesley Lord presiding, will formally open the 179th Baltimore Annual Conference of the Methodist Church Wednesday.

More than 700 ministers and laymen are expected to attend the five-day conference on the campus of Western Maryland College.

A service of ordination Sunday afternoon will end the conference. At a worship service to be broadcast that morning, with Bishop Lord preaching the sermon, ministerial appointments for the year will be read.

The first order of business after the conference convenes will be an organizational session and initial voting for delegates to the General Conference of the church set for April, 1964, in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Bishop Newell S. Booth, missionary bishop of Methodist work in the Republic of the Congo (Leopoldville) will address the conference twice on Friday. A missionary in the Congo since 1930, he was made a bishop of the church in 1944 and has headquarters at Elisabethville in Katanga Province.

On Thursday, the Mutual Relief Society Dinner at Westminster Methodist Church will be addressed by former governor Theodore R. McKeldin, mayor of Baltimore.

Charles C. Parlin of New York City will speak at a Friday night session of the conference after the election of conference and district lay leaders. The conference is divided into six districts.

Much of the business of the conference will consist of hearing reports from various boards and committees dealing with such subjects as education, salaries, lay activities, evangelism, pensions and missionaries.

SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI)—The 136-ton Japanese fishing vessel Kaiyo Maru sank Tuesday off San Juan after a collision with the 20,000-ton Italian tanker Fina Italia.

The U.S. Coast Guard said 11 persons had been taken off the Japanese vessel, one of them in serious condition. A search was begun by planes and ships for 14 others.

Maryland News In Brief

CAMBRIDGE (AP) — Army PFC John D. Weber, listed among the passengers aboard an airliner that crashed off the Alaskan coast, had ended a visit to his East New Market, Md., home last Saturday.

Weber, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Weber, had been home on leave since May 9 when he left Saturday to return to Alaska. A graduate of North Dorchester High School, the 18-year-old soldier had been stationed in Alaska since November.

Webb enlisted in the Army in June of last year. He is one of five children in the Weber family, which moved to East New Market from Tipton, Pa., in 1952.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Western Maryland distributing utilities which received natural gas rate refunds from interstate pipelines passed along the refunds to their customers, while a third retained the refund.

The Power Commission said the two which turned over the refunds to customers were the Washington Gas Light Co., refunded $208,308, and the Hagerstown Gas Co., with a refund of $23,771. Frederick Gas Co. retained its refund of $2,358, the commission said.

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Sheriff William B. Huggins, administrator of the Anne Arundel County Jail, said Tuesday he would urge county health officials to condemn the 62-year-old jail as a health menace.

"I am very much afraid that an epidemic might break out at the jail because of the dilapidated plumbing," said Sheriff Huggins.

"It's like an outdoor outhouse, complete with odors."

TOWSON, Md. (AP) — A college freshman from Prince Georges County has been censured by a Baltimore County magistrate for leaving Nazi-style notes in a doughnut shop on York Road.

"Your actions leave a lot to be desired," Magistrate William S. Baldwin told the defendant, Charles C. Smith, 18, of Cheverly, in dropping a disorderly conduct charge against him. He attends Towson Teachers College.

The target of the notes was Mrs. Eva Williams, a Polish immigrant. She lost relatives in the Nazi extermination camp at Auschwitz.

BALTIMORE (AP) — A committee of the Maryland State Bar Association is urging that the Legislative Council be asked to consider two alternate moves aimed at improving domestic and family litigation in Maryland.

One proposal put before the association's membership would have the governor appoint a commission to study the need for a statewide family court.

The other suggests the council consider a statewide enabling act which would authorize any political subdivision to adopt its own family court system if it appeared to be needed.

Edward W. Cooey of Hagerstown is among the committee members.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Sgt. 1.C. James G. Plummer of the Maryland National Guard has been selected to brief President Kennedy on the chief executive's visit to the North American Air Defense Command at Colorado Springs, Colo., this month.

Sgt. Plummer, a Baltimorean, is a member of Headquarters Battery, First Missile Battalion, 70th Artillery. Employed as a technician for the Nike defense sites in the Baltimore-Washington area, he is a graduate of the Air Defense School.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Dr. James A. Shannon, director of the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, will be the speaker Friday for Dean's Day at the University of Maryland School of Medicine.

Dr. Shannon has devoted his professional career to medical research. Director of NIH since 1955, he has done original research in kidney function, chemotherapy and malaria.

PIKESVILLE, Md. (AP) — In nine fatal accidents on Maryland highways last week, Maryland State Police reported Tuesday, alcohol was a contributing factor in six of the deaths, speed in five and driver error in five.

"Fatigue, inattention and rush contribute generously to highway accidents," said Maj. George E. Davidson, field commander.

"All trips — both business and pleasure — should not be taken without proper rest and without sufficient time, which includes allowing for possible delays."

Kennedy Opens Hunger Attack

WASHINGTON (AP)—"A hungry people listens not to reason, nor cares for justice, nor is bent by prayers."

President Kennedy harkened back to the Roman philosopher Seneca for those words to open the World Food Congress—a United Nations global attack against hunger.

"Human nature," the President added, "has not changed in 1900 years."

"So long as freedom from hunger is only half achieved—so long as two-thirds of the nations of the world have food deficits—no citizen, no nation can afford to feel satisfied or secure," the President said.

He pointed to the U.S. Food-For-Peace program which in the past decade, he said, has sent $12 billion of food and fiber to needy nations.

The President, whose Tuesday talk is being rebroadcast via Relay I satellite to seven European countries, said the U.S. program now provides food for 100 million people in 100 countries.

Accommodation Law Vote Action Due Next Week

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — State officials indicated Tuesday it will be next week at the earliest before they take any action on petitions aimed at forcing a referendum on Maryland's public accommodations law.

Civil rights groups screening the petitions claim they have found more than enough legally defective signatures or sheets of signatures to invalidate the petition drive and allow the law to take immediate effect.

They were uncovering further alleged discrepancies Tuesday and will not complete their screening before Wednesday afternoon or Thursday.

Secretary of State Lloyd L. Simpkins said his office will begin counting names on the petitions after the civil rights groups have completed their checking.

He said where legal flaws are obvious, the names will not be counted in determining whether there are enough signatures to meet requirements for a referendum on the bill.

Law requires that for a statewide bill to go on referendum there must be petitions signed by 23,080 registered voters. More than half of these (11,541) had to be submitted by June 1—the effective date of the act—and the remainder by July 1.

The Maryland Petition Committee, leading a drive against the public accommodations bill, filed petitions containing 12,325 names last Friday night, minutes before the act was to take effect. This was 824 more than required—if all were valid.

Baltimore attorney Hyman Pressman, and civil rights groups represented by him, descended on the secretary's office Monday morning to begin gathering information for a legal challenge of the petitions.

They uncovered 1,551 names the first day which they said failed on their face to comply with the law, and they had gone through less than half of the petitions.

Gas Price War Probe Sought

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — An independent oil company of Baltimore asked a federal court Tuesday to order a grand jury investigation of what the company described as a gas price war in Maryland.

The petition, by A. & H. Transportation, Inc., headed by Harry Waller as president, was argued before the U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals.

The company contends that for some years major oil companies have been engaged in a price war in Maryland.

The big companies, the petition said, are in conspiracy to monopolize the marketing of refined petroleum products with the "intent to injure, destroy and eliminate" the small dealers.

Government counsel argued that the appeals court cannot order a district court to summon a grand jury except to correct serious abuses which the government said do not exist in this case.

Tax Extension Voted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Ways & Means Committee Tuesday approved 19 to 6 a bill to extend for one year present corporate tax rates and current federal levies on liquor, cigarettes, telephone calls, automobiles and airline tickets.

Scientists Report Water In Atmosphere Of Mars

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—There definitely is water in the atmosphere of Mars, but not enough to even wet the "canals" that astromers once thought criss-crossed the planet.

That word came Tuesday from researchers at the California Institute of Technology. Their report said there is so little Martian water vapor—1,000 to 2,000 times less than on earth—that it never rains or snows.

If it all condensed on the surface, it would be but three-thousandths of an inch deep.

The scientists also reported that carbon dioxide, a gaseous component of the earth's atmosphere, is much more concentrated on Mars than previously supposed.

They concluded that the water-carbon dioxide combination creates a "greenhouse effect" that admits sunlight but prevents solar heat from radiating back into space, making Mars warmer than it otherwise would be. It still, however, would have a daytime maximum temperature of 70 degrees and be much colder at night.

What effect do the findings have on the possibility of life on Mars, long a subject of speculation?

The scientists said only that all known life processes use water, and life would be much less likely if no water had been found.

The report is based on data obtained under near-perfect atmospheric conditions with a large spectrograph and the 100-inch Hooker telescope of the Mt. Wilson and Palomar observatories.

Drs. Lewis D. Kaplan, Guido Munch and Hyron Spinrad said that while the existence of Martian water vapor has been conjectured, there has been no previous direct evidence because there is so little of it. Detection is complicated because there is so much moisture in the earth's atmosphere.

4 Mine Employes Indicted In Wake Of Pa. Mine Blast

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (AP) — A Superintendent and three employes at the vast U. S. Steel Corp. Robena coal complex, site of a mine explosion which killed 37 men, were indicted Tuesday for violating state bituminous mining laws.

A Greene County grand jury, which heard testimony on the case during two days, returned the indictments against superintendent Michael Wydo, mine foreman Marion Misiak, assistant mine foreman Albert H. Dillow and electrician Stanley Boskovich.

The charges against the men are not linked directly to the blast last Dec. 6 at nearby Robena Mine No. 3, which the state said was caused by an accumulation of coal dust and methane gas.

The charges against Boskovich, Misiak and Wydo are connected with permitting deteriorated electrical equipment to be used in the southwestern Pennsylvania mine. Dillow is accused of failing to report a dangerous gas condition in the mine.

Md. Boy, 5, Drowns

OWINGS MILLS, Md. (AP)—A 5-year-old boy died late Tuesday afternoon when he fell into a water hole while playing with two other youngsters near here.

Police said Howard Dean Craun fell into the water while he was playing with Michael Thompson, 6, and Michael's brother, David, 5. The boys are all from Owings Mills.

Admiral Urges British Support Polaris Project

LONDON (AP)—An American admiral urged skeptical British defense chiefs to support—and thereby save—President Kennedy's project for a mixed-crew nuclear armada for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

But at the end of Tuesday's intensive political, strategic and technical discussions there was no sign the British had warmed to the idea.

The vice chief of U.S. naval operations, Adm. Claude V. Ricketts, flew in from Washington aiming to dispel some of the doubts and misgivings with which the British view the planned strike-force.

As now foreseen the force would consist of about 25 roving surface ships, carrying eight Polaris missiles each, manned by crews of several NATO nationalities.

Ricketts recently persuaded the West Germans that the force is a workable military proposition.

The free world has a choice of making a basic decision whether or not to build more of the same type of nuclear deterrent systems, or to put some of its money into diversification, he told newsmen on his arrival in London.

"I am not here to put over anything. We are not expecting a cool reception. I have always had a very warm reception in Britain. I am not going to use any arguments. We are just going to have very frank technical discussions."

Route 219 Relocation Bids Are Being Sought

The State Roads Commission is making another move towards the modernization of U. S. Route 219 in Garrett County.

Bids will be asked for the construction of 2.6 miles of the much-traveled highway north from Accident to Northern Garrett County High School at Cove.

The SRC will open bids on the project on Tuesday, June 25, at its office, 300 West Preston Street, Baltimore.

At the same time bids will be opened for the construction of a bridge over Town Creek on Lower Town Creek Road.

This federal aid project of the Allegany County Commissioners will be handled entirely by the SRC, the awarding of contract and inspection. Financing will be from county-federal monies.

The three-span bridge will be of pre-stressed concrete and I beams, 60-feet long and 24 feet wide, will include about 825 feet of approaches. It was designed for the county by Baker, Wibberly, Hagerstown consulting engineers.

The Route 219 project will have the new highway relocated from the old, twisting, narrow one, with the exception of a short stretch just north of Accident.

It will go across the bridge that is nearing completion across Bear Creek. The George F. Hazelwood Company of this city has 95 per cent of the bridge project finished, and only needs some backfilling.

An idea of the new location of the road can be gained from the site of the bridge, about 600 feet upstream toward the state fish hatchery from the present bridge.

The spring on the hill just north of Bear Creek will be bypassed and the new highway will be built on a five per cent grade.

Federal Aid Project Is Started Here

Work on Cumberland's first project which is eligible for federal aid under the Accelerated Public Works Program got underway yesterday, a water and sewer main job in the Thompson-McKinley avenues area.

The Hout Construction Company reported materials at the site and preliminary work underway on the project which will cost $16,200. The city is eligible for up to half of the expense.

The contract will include the laying of 1,068 feet of sewer and 1,070 feet of water line on portions of Thompson Avenue, McKinley Avenue, Ridge Terrace and Ritchie Street.

The city has another application on file for federal aid and has set in motion plans for another.

It is seeking federal assistance on the Brinker's Run encasement project from Oldtown Road to the Industrial Boulevard, which is estimated to cost $90,000, and Monday passed resolutions for the cut-through of Grand Avenue from Fifth Street to Laing Avenue.

The resolutions are sent to the Housing and Home Finance Agency of the federal government.

Bonding Counsel Asks Delay In Enlarging Board

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday delayed the selection of four additional members for the County Sanitary Commission pending completion of certain legal technicalities.

Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the board, suggested the delay because there will have to be some action in having amendments to the charter of the sanitary group approved by the State Tax Commission.

Getty explained that the sanitary unit has entered into certain agreements with the Housing and Home Administration, a federal agency, in connection with plans for sewage work in the county.

The bonding counsel has noted that with the sanitary commission being extended to seven members the amendments to the charter will have to be completed as the sale of bonds is involved.

Catholic Churches Plan Memorial Masses For Pope

Catholic clergy of Western Maryland have begun preparations for memorial Masses for the repose of the soul of Pope John XXIII.

The 81-year-old spiritual ruler of half a billion Catholics, died Monday after four days of agonizing suffering from stomach tumor and peritonitis.

Pastors of the various Catholic churches in Western Maryland were contacted concerning the memorial Masses. However, all Catholic clergy of this area today were awaiting word from the Archbishop of Baltimore.

Pending official word from the Archbishop, several churches have scheduled Requiem Masses.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. J. Lawrence Kilkenny, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, Cumberland, and Rural Dean of Western Maryland, said a Solemn Requiem High Mass will be celebrated on Thursday at 9 a. m. Msgr. Kilkenny will be celebrant; Rev. John U. Lyness, deacon, and Rev. Ebert Hebert, will be sub-deacon. The school children choir will sing during the Mass.

A Solemn High Requiem Mass will also be celebrated in SS. Peter and Paul Church, however no date or time has been selected.

Rev. Francis Montgomery, administrator of St. Michael's Church, Frostburg, announced that his parish will celebrate a High Requiem Mass on Thursday at 8 a. m.

Rev. Frederick Duke, pastor of St. Mary's Church, Lonaconing, said he will celebrate a Low Requiem Mass at 7 a. m. on Monday.

Rev. Michael K. Carney, pastor of St. Peter's Catholic Church, Oakland, will celebrate a Requiem High Mass on Thursday at 9 a. m.

Rev. John Sleeman, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Midland, said a Requiem High Mass will be celebrated Thursday at 7:30 a. m.

A Requiem High Mass will also be celebrated at St. Mary's Church, Cumberland, however no date has been selected.

Rev. Michael Smyth, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, Mt. Savage, will also celebrate a Mass in honor of Pope John, however the date has not been set.

Rev. Thomas Fannon, pastor of St. Peter's Church, Westernport, said a Requiem High Mass will be celebrated Monday at 9 a. m.

The fronts of all Catholic churches in the area were draped with black, mourning the death of Pope John.

The Vatican made no announcement of the date for the state funeral. It probably will be toward the end of the nine-day period of official mourning.

Many Marylanders of many faiths spoke sadly of the death of Pope John.

The Catholic Review, the official newspaper for the archdiocese of Baltimore, said Pope John "will certainly rank as one of the most decisive pontificates of the more than 260 which the Christian era has known."

The office of Gov. J. Millard Tawes issued a statement saying: "The death of so noble a spiritual leader is a tragic blow not only to all Catholics but to mankind" and "Here was a man quietly determined to leave this world a little better than he found it simply by fostering human understanding."

Catholic Churches Plan Memorial Masses For Pope

Catholic clergy of Western Maryland have begun preparations for memorial Masses for the repose of the soul of Pope John XXIII.

The 81-year-old spiritual ruler of half a billion Catholics, died Monday after four days of agonizing suffering from stomach tumor and peritonitis.

Pastors of the various Catholic churches in Western Maryland were contacted concerning the memorial Masses. However, all Catholic clergy of this area today were awaiting word from the Archbishop of Baltimore.

Pending official word from the Archbishop, several churches have scheduled Requiem Masses.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. J. Lawrence Kilkenny, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, Cumberland, and Rural Dean of Western Maryland, said a Solemn Requiem High Mass will be celebrated on Thursday at 9 a. m. Msgr. Kilkenny will be celebrant; Rev. John U. Lyness, deacon, and Rev. Ebert Hebert, will be sub-deacon. The school children choir will sing during the Mass.

A Solemn High Requiem Mass will also be celebrated in SS. Peter and Paul Church, however no date or time has been selected.

Rev. Francis Montgomery, administrator of St. Michael's Church, Frostburg, announced that his parish will celebrate a High Requiem Mass on Thursday at 8 a. m.

Rev. Frederick Duke, pastor of St. Mary's Church, Lonaconing, said he will celebrate a Low Requiem Mass at 7 a. m. on Monday.

Rev. Michael K. Carney, pastor of St. Peter's Catholic Church, Oakland, will celebrate a Requiem High Mass on Thursday at 9 a. m.

Rev. John Sleeman, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Midland, said a Requiem High Mass will be celebrated Thursday at 7:30 a. m.

A Requiem High Mass will also be celebrated at St. Mary's Church, Cumberland, however no date has been selected.

Rev. Michael Smyth, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, Mt. Savage, will also celebrate a Mass in honor of Pope John, however the date has not been set.

Rev. Thomas Fannon, pastor of St. Peter's Church, Westernport, said a Requiem High Mass will be celebrated Monday at 9 a. m.

The fronts of all Catholic churches in the area were draped with black, mourning the death of Pope John.

The Vatican made no announcement of the date for the state funeral. It probably will be toward the end of the nine-day period of official mourning.

Many Marylanders of many faiths spoke sadly of the death of Pope John.

The Catholic Review, the official newspaper for the archdiocese of Baltimore, said Pope John "will certainly rank as one of the most decisive pontificates of the more than 260 which the Christian era has known."

The office of Gov. J. Millard Tawes issued a statement saying: "The death of so noble a spiritual leader is a tragic blow not only to all Catholics but to mankind" and "Here was a man quietly determined to leave this world a little better than he found it simply by fostering human understanding."

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Breathe Naturally

The first thing we do on entering this world is breathe. So you'd think we'd all breathe naturally, wouldn't you? But few adults do. Deep and rhythmical breathers are usually found only among children, athletes, singers and soundly sleeping adults. The rest of us expect our bodies to be satisfied with only shallow drafts of air. And so we suffer from sluggish circulation, tense nerves, fatigued bodies, colorless cheeks, dulled eyes and sqeaky or breathless-sounding voices.

The best way to break this bad habit and rid yourself of all its attendant ills is through breathing exercises. Following is one of the best:

Sit tailor-fashion on the floor with abdomen retracted, chest held high and back and head erect. Without forcing, inhale deeply for a slow count of three. Still without forcing, exhale for a count of six and at the same time direct the breath along the back of the throat. You can be sure that you are performing properly when a light snoring sound can be heard. Then, repeat for three minutes in the most rhythmical fashion that you can manage, concentrating seriously on the action by thinking of nothing else.

After about thirty days of such practice sessions, you will find yourself automatically breathing in a correct natural pattern. And here's what is most important: You will feel, look and sound better, too! The additional oxygen you provide your system will make you more alert and both ready and able to enjoy a fuller life.

BREATH CONTROL, VOLUME, TONE are all key factors in developing a charming speaking voice. More helpful information on these and other facets of "Your Most Attractive Voice" can be found in the pamphlet of the same name. To get your copy, send 10c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to John Robert Powers, c/o this newspaper.

Secrets Of Charm

Breathe Naturally

The first thing we do on entering this world is breathe. So you'd think we'd all breathe naturally, wouldn't you? But few adults do. Deep and rhythmical breathers are usually found only among children, athletes, singers and soundly sleeping adults. The rest of us expect our bodies to be satisfied with only shallow drafts of air. And so we suffer from sluggish circulation, tense nerves, fatigued bodies, colorless cheeks, dulled eyes and sqeaky or breathless-sounding voices.

The best way to break this bad habit and rid yourself of all its attendant ills is through breathing exercises. Following is one of the best:

Sit tailor-fashion on the floor with abdomen retracted, chest held high and back and head erect. Without forcing, inhale deeply for a slow count of three. Still without forcing, exhale for a count of six and at the same time direct the breath along the back of the throat. You can be sure that you are performing properly when a light snoring sound can be heard. Then, repeat for three minutes in the most rhythmical fashion that you can manage, concentrating seriously on the action by thinking of nothing else.

After about thirty days of such practice sessions, you will find yourself automatically breathing in a correct natural pattern. And here's what is most important: You will feel, look and sound better, too! The additional oxygen you provide your system will make you more alert and both ready and able to enjoy a fuller life.

BREATH CONTROL, VOLUME, TONE are all key factors in developing a charming speaking voice. More helpful information on these and other facets of "Your Most Attractive Voice" can be found in the pamphlet of the same name. To get your copy, send 10c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to John Robert Powers, c/o this newspaper.

A covered dish supper will be held for members and their husbands in conjunction with the next regular meeting. It will be held September 9 at the social center, instead of the first Monday, because of Labor Day.

The installation was conducted by Mrs. William McCleary, district deputy. Mrs. Norris conducted the meeting and committee reports given included Mrs. William McLean, world missions; Mrs. Albright, the presentation of trophies to the winners in the poetry contest; Mrs. Soethe thanked the members for the good attendance at the annual communion; and Mrs. Rose Liobel reported on the monthly visit to the County Home, County Infirmary and Sylvan Retreat.

Plans for the new Sacred Heart Hospital were described by Sister Mary Richard, who with Sister Natalie, Sister John Mildred and Sister Alice Marie presented a movie on the life of Mother Elizabeth Ann Seton. Miss Mary Murray, state regent and member of Court Theresa, Mt. Savage, spoke on the Legion of Decency.

A social hour followed. Different colored roses were used in the table decorations. Prizes were won by Mrs. Soethe and Mrs. Marguerita. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Loibel, assisted by Mrs. George Barncord, Mrs. Albright, Mrs. Rose Ann McGuirk, Miss Mary Doll and Mrs. Giovania Lepore. Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have a delicate problem and don't know where else to go for help. I can't discuss this with our clergyman or our doctor as we are well-known in the community and if this story got out my husband would be furious.

We've been married 12 years and have five lovely children. I have part-time help, which is all I want because I believe a mother should raise her own children.

My husband owns a small but profitable business near our home. About a year ago he got into the habit of "dropping in" for lunch about twice a week. Now he's home for lunch five times a week and it's driving me crazy. I don't mind fixing him a sandwich and coffee, but he follows me around the kitchen with that come-hither look in his eye and when his mind is made up, it's made up.

I love him very much, but 12:30 p.m. is no time for romance with three kids at home for lunch, the laundress in the basement, the doorbell ringing and me trying to get to a 2 p.m. church guild meeting.

I want to be a good wife but I believe there is a time and a place for everything. Please tell me what to do.

—FRANTIC AND EXHAUSTED

DEAR FRANTIC AND EXHAUSTED: Tell your husband you married him for better or for worse but you didn't marry him for lunch.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our daughter is 19, lovely, bright and well-liked. She has had two years of college and is changing, I'm afraid, from an unspoiled, fresh young lady to a hard-boiled woman of the world.

She told us last night that she takes a few drinks at school because everyone else does and she sees nothing wrong in it. She doesn't smoke but all the girls around her do, and she sees nothing wrong in that either.

She works during the summer to pay part of her tuition, but we still must make sacrifices to see her through. I told her that unless she would promise not to smoke or drink she may not return to college in the fall.

She says I am not being fair to her—that she must make these decisions herself and they must not be imposed on her. Will you please print your views on this so I can show them to her? I need some help with this headstrong girl.

—TRULY WORRIED

DEAR MOTHER: Here it is but when you see my advice you may not be so eager to show it to her.

A girl of 19 is what she is. Her pattern is set and you will not change it. If her training has been good you need not worry. If it has not been good, worrying won't help.

Don't deny your daughter the opportunity to get a college education. Send her, with no restrictions. Quit nagging. Tell her you have faith and confidence and that you know she will never let you down.

DEAR ANN: I'm a young widow who is going with an attractive bachelor — object matrimony.

Gordon's mother lives in another state. She wanted to come here for a 10-day visit and Gordon asked me if I would have her as my house guest. I have plenty of room as well as a competent maid. I agreed, thinking it might boost my stock with Gordon.

Well, I knocked myself out being a charming hostess. I took "Mother" everywhere and wore myself out seeing that she had a good time. Now I'm in for it. Gordon said she is so fond of me and enjoyed my hospitality so much, she wants to return in July and stay for eight weeks.

Gordon is a great golfer and likes to play cards with the boys. While his mother was in town he spent only three evenings with us. I do not want his mother in my home for eight weeks but I'm afraid to say no because it may wreck my chances with him. Help. Please

—DESPERATE

DEAR DESPERATE: Say NO and don't worry about what it does to your chances. If Gordon wants to marry you he will. If he doesn't, you can wine and dine his mother for 10 years and it won't make any difference.

To learn the booby-traps of teenage drinking, write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teenage Drinking," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Local 26, Kelly Sign 2-Year Labor Contract

Negotiating Committees of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company and Local 26, URCLPWA, AFL-CIO, signed a two-year labor agreement yesterday.

Effective June 3 and expiring June 5, 1965, the agreement affects approximately 1,850 hourly-rated Kelly employes at the Cumberland plant. It was ratified by Local 26 membership at meetings May 29 and May 31.

It is in line with current rubber industry settlements. The package includes a wage increase of nine cents an hour effective June 10 and an additional seven cents increase effective June 8, 1964.

In addition to wages, the Supplemental Unemployment Benefits Plan was liberalized and a new Workmen's Compensation Supplemental Plan has been provided. The funeral pay provision of the contract also has been liberalized.

The negotiating committees consisted of James W. Stein, president, James E. Green, Nelson E. Brant, Raymond E. Bean and Alva C. Lewis of Local 26; F. T. Bell, personnel manager; John P. Zimmerman, Wesley A. McGraw Jr. and Lindsay M. Bray, representing the company.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: King of ◇

Overconfidence led to declarer's defeat in today's hand. The four spade contract appeared to be such a sound undertaking that he never stopped to consider what pitfalls might lie in store for him.

West opened the king of diamonds and East signaled encouragingly with the nine. The suit was continued and South ruffed the third round. He was on the verge of claiming the rest of the tricks at this point and, more or less as an after thought, he decided to draw the trumps first. The ace of spades was cashed, followed by a small spade to the queen. When West showed out on the second lead declarer thought better of his original impulse.

In point of fact, South's prospects had dimmed considerably. If he drew one more trump and proceeded to run the clubs, the odds were that East would be able to ruff in before declarer could get rid of his losing hearts. A better chance seemed to be to try the heart finesse, so South played a small heart from dummy and put in the queen from his hand. When West turned up with the king, the contract was automatically set.

Instead of being so confident of success, South would have been better advised to ask himself what could go wrong. An obvious answer is that only a bad trump break could threaten his prospects. It is relatively simple to take out insurance against this possibility.

At trick four, declarer should lead a small spade from his hand and, when West follows, the ten is played from the dummy. If the ten holds the trick and East follows suit, South is in position to draw the remaining trumps and now make his claim. If the ten of spades loses to the jack, declarer merely wins East's return, pulls trumps and discards his three losing hearts on the dummy's clubs.

Disaster Procedure Is Tested

There was no cause for actual alarm at the Cumberland Plant of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company yesterday, due to the ambulances, fire trucks, police officials and first aid teams going about quickly and efficiently at their work.

A mock disaster was staged at the plant to test its recently developed disaster procedure.

The problem was the simulated explosion of a gasoline truck with the resultant fire spreading to nearby buildings.

"Victims" were employes made up with fake injuries. Other workers were in fire brigades, first aid teams and rescue squads.

These were using their training skills to combat the disaster, Walter C. Dyck, plant manager, pointed out.

Representatives from 12 Pittsburgh Plate plants, glass research division and general offices in Pittsburgh were present to view the test runs.

Also assisting were members of the City Fire Department, State Police, Sheriff Paul C. Haberlein and deputy sheriffs and others.

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Keep America beautiful. Skip the pedal pushers, blue jeans and shorts when motoring to your vacation hideaway.

The trouble with pedal pushers and such—where the typical female's concerned: They don't hideaway very much.

As any veteran girl-watcher can testify: Nothing advances the image of the ugly American quite so rapidly as the site of a chunky matron or miss in pants best suited for females with a model's slim anatomy.

You see such a sight every so often at the gas stations along the typical turnpike, U.S.A. In the vacation months ahead, you'll see them more than every so often.

The International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union (ILGWU), wages the cause of keeping the nation's motoring females presentable.

"Motoring is a great American pasttime, and it's amazing how little attention is paid to dressing comfortably and attractively for it," the ILGWU's poet laureates, Eleanor Lambert and Francie Hughes, note in a "Travel in Style" booklet.

They caution that tight toreador pants, shorts or cotton dresses with stiff petticoats are as misplaced in a modern, low-slung automobile as grandmother's linen duster, bonnet and long motoring veil.

Their suggestions:

—If you are the slacks type, be sure yours are cut for comfort through the crotch, and in a crease-resistant material so you won't arrive looking accordion-pleated. Make sure the shirt is cut long so it won't ride up and balloon at the back.

Consider Easy Costumes

—The non-slacks type (most women) ought to consider three of the easiest costumes for motoring. These include the knitted dress and jacket; the easy tweed suit with a neat blouse or sweater; the printed spectator sports dress.

—For a motor trip spanning more than a day, plan two or three complete changes of costume, including lingerie, belt, scarf, stocking and shoes. Pack them in layers between tissue paper or scented travel flannels. This saves you from fumbling for clothes each day.

The trick when planning your vacation wardrobe: Take just enough for all your activities and changes of weather.

Elks To Initiate Class This Evening

Exalted Ruler John E. Byrd Jr. said the group includes Byron Kight, James F. Twigg, Gorman B. Davis, George A. Athey, James F. Robinson, John F. Sollinger Jr., Roy K. Wolford Jr., Robert M. Ziler and Edwin D. VanMeter.

A luncheon will follow the initiation and semi-monthly business meeting.

Most persons in the United States who run away from home are not children, but adults, some of them more than 65 years of age.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have a delicate problem and don't know where else to go for help. I can't discuss this with our clergyman or our doctor as we are well-known in the community and if this story got out my husband would be furious.

We've been married 12 years and have five lovely children. I have part-time help, which is all I want because I believe a mother should raise her own children.

My husband owns a small but profitable business near our home. About a year ago he got into the habit of "dropping in" for lunch about twice a week. Now he's home for lunch five times a week and it's driving me crazy. I don't mind fixing him a sandwich and coffee, but he follows me around the kitchen with that come-hither look in his eye and when his mind is made up, it's made up.

I love him very much, but 12:30 p.m. is no time for romance with three kids at home for lunch, the laundress in the basement, the doorbell ringing and me trying to get to a 2 p.m. church guild meeting.

I want to be a good wife but I believe there is a time and a place for everything. Please tell me what to do.

—FRANTIC AND EXHAUSTED

DEAR FRANTIC AND EXHAUSTED: Tell your husband you married him for better or for worse but you didn't marry him for lunch.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our daughter is 19, lovely, bright and well-liked. She has had two years of college and is changing, I'm afraid, from an unspoiled, fresh young lady to a hard-boiled woman of the world.

She told us last night that she takes a few drinks at school because everyone else does and she sees nothing wrong in it. She doesn't smoke but all the girls around her do, and she sees nothing wrong in that either.

She works during the summer to pay part of her tuition, but we still must make sacrifices to see her through. I told her that unless she would promise not to smoke or drink she may not return to college in the fall.

She says I am not being fair to her—that she must make these decisions herself and they must not be imposed on her. Will you please print your views on this so I can show them to her? I need some help with this headstrong girl.

—TRULY WORRIED

DEAR MOTHER: Here it is but when you see my advice you may not be so eager to show it to her.

A girl of 19 is what she is. Her pattern is set and you will not change it. If her training has been good you need not worry. If it has not been good, worrying won't help.

Don't deny your daughter the opportunity to get a college education. Send her, with no restrictions. Quit nagging. Tell her you have faith and confidence and that you know she will never let you down.

DEAR ANN: I'm a young widow who is going with an attractive bachelor — object matrimony.

Gordon's mother lives in another state. She wanted to come here for a 10-day visit and Gordon asked me if I would have her as my house guest. I have plenty of room as well as a competent maid. I agreed, thinking it might boost my stock with Gordon.

Well, I knocked myself out being a charming hostess. I took "Mother" everywhere and wore myself out seeing that she had a good time. Now I'm in for it. Gordon said she is so fond of me and enjoyed my hospitality so much, she wants to return in July and stay for eight weeks.

Gordon is a great golfer and likes to play cards with the boys. While his mother was in town he spent only three evenings with us. I do not want his mother in my home for eight weeks but I'm afraid to say no because it may wreck my chances with him. Help. Please

—DESPERATE

DEAR DESPERATE: Say NO and don't worry about what it does to your chances. If Gordon wants to marry you he will. If he doesn't, you can wine and dine his mother for 10 years and it won't make any difference.

To learn the booby-traps of teenage drinking, write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teenage Drinking," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Negotiating Committees of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company and Local 26, URCLPWA, AFL-CIO, signed a two-year labor agreement yesterday.

Effective June 3 and expiring June 5, 1965, the agreement affects approximately 1,850 hourly-rated Kelly employes at the Cumberland plant. It was ratified by Local 26 membership at meetings May 29 and May 31.

Opening lead: King of ◇

Overconfidence led to declarer's defeat in today's hand. The four spade contract appeared to be such a sound undertaking that he never stopped to consider what pitfalls might lie in store for him.

West opened the king of diamonds and East signaled encouragingly with the nine. The suit was continued and South ruffed the third round. He was on the verge of claiming the rest of the tricks at this point and, more or less as an after thought, he decided to draw the trumps first. The ace of spades was cashed, followed by a small spade to the queen. When West showed out on the second lead declarer thought better of his original impulse.

In point of fact, South's prospects had dimmed considerably. If he drew one more trump and proceeded to run the clubs, the odds were that East would be able to ruff in before declarer could get rid of his losing hearts. A better chance seemed to be to try the heart finesse, so South played a small heart from dummy and put in the queen from his hand. When West turned up with the king, the contract was automatically set.

Instead of being so confident of success, South would have been better advised to ask himself what could go wrong. An obvious answer is that only a bad trump break could threaten his prospects. It is relatively simple to take out insurance against this possibility.

At trick four, declarer should lead a small spade from his hand and, when West follows, the ten is played from the dummy. If the ten holds the trick and East follows suit, South is in position to draw the remaining trumps and now make his claim. If the ten of spades loses to the jack, declarer merely wins East's return, pulls trumps and discards his three losing hearts on the dummy's clubs.

Disaster Procedure Is Tested

There was no cause for actual alarm at the Cumberland Plant of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company yesterday, due to the ambulances, fire trucks, police officials and first aid teams going about quickly and efficiently at their work.

A mock disaster was staged at the plant to test its recently developed disaster procedure.

The problem was the simulated explosion of a gasoline truck with the resultant fire spreading to nearby buildings.

"Victims" were employes made up with fake injuries. Other workers were in fire brigades, first aid teams and rescue squads.

These were using their training skills to combat the disaster, Walter C. Dyck, plant manager, pointed out.

Representatives from 12 Pittsburgh Plate plants, glass research division and general offices in Pittsburgh were present to view the test runs.

Also assisting were members of the City Fire Department, State Police, Sheriff Paul C. Haberlein and deputy sheriffs and others.

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Keep America beautiful. Skip the pedal pushers, blue jeans and shorts when motoring to your vacation hideaway.

The trouble with pedal pushers and such—where the typical female's concerned: They don't hideaway very much.

As any veteran girl-watcher can testify: Nothing advances the image of the ugly American quite so rapidly as the site of a chunky matron or miss in pants best suited for females with a model's slim anatomy.

You see such a sight every so often at the gas stations along the typical turnpike, U.S.A. In the vacation months ahead, you'll see them more than every so often.

The International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union (ILGWU), wages the cause of keeping the nation's motoring females presentable.

"Motoring is a great American pasttime, and it's amazing how little attention is paid to dressing comfortably and attractively for it," the ILGWU's poet laureates, Eleanor Lambert and Francie Hughes, note in a "Travel in Style" booklet.

They caution that tight toreador pants, shorts or cotton dresses with stiff petticoats are as misplaced in a modern, low-slung automobile as grandmother's linen duster, bonnet and long motoring veil.

Their suggestions:

—If you are the slacks type, be sure yours are cut for comfort through the crotch, and in a crease-resistant material so you won't arrive looking accordion-pleated. Make sure the shirt is cut long so it won't ride up and balloon at the back.

Consider Easy Costumes

—The non-slacks type (most women) ought to consider three of the easiest costumes for motoring. These include the knitted dress and jacket; the easy tweed suit with a neat blouse or sweater; the printed spectator sports dress.

—For a motor trip spanning more than a day, plan two or three complete changes of costume, including lingerie, belt, scarf, stocking and shoes. Pack them in layers between tissue paper or scented travel flannels. This saves you from fumbling for clothes each day.

The trick when planning your vacation wardrobe: Take just enough for all your activities and changes of weather.

Elks To Initiate Class This Evening

Exalted Ruler John E. Byrd Jr. said the group includes Byron Kight, James F. Twigg, Gorman B. Davis, George A. Athey, James F. Robinson, John F. Sollinger Jr., Roy K. Wolford Jr., Robert M. Ziler and Edwin D. VanMeter.

A luncheon will follow the initiation and semi-monthly business meeting.

$1 Tax Rate Adopted At Westernport

WESTERNPORT — The Mayor and Commissioners Monday night authorized the water superintendent to shut off the water supply at the properties of all owners who have delinquent water accounts, if not paid by June 10. The final notice has been mailed to the property owners.

The tax rate for the Town of Westernport was set at $1 per $100 of assessed value for the next fiscal year. This was the previous tax rate.

Commissioner Joseph Alongi was appointed building inspector; Frank Sultzer, police officer, was appointed bailiff; Horace Whitworth Jr., attorney; James P. Rogers, auditor; Mrs. Katherine Hartig, town clerk, and Commissioner Alvin Pence, treasurer.

George Failing was appointed for a three year tearm on the Zoning Board of Appeals.

Salaries were set at $500 for the mayor and $250 for each commissioner.

Wilt's Tire Shop, Westernport, was low bidder at $451 for six new tires for the pumper truck of the Potomac Fire Company.

A delegation representing the Tri-Towns Lions Club asked requirements for satisfactory construction of the new road opening from Main Street Extended, up the ravine to Central Avenue, Green's Addition.

Mayor Ray L. Wilt explained that interested citizens would be required to engineer the road in accordance with accepted engineering practice as shown in the survey, and have grading and filling done, proper drainage of surface waters provided for and lay and roll a six inch course of crusher run grade material.

When these requirements are met, the town will acquire rights of way and be responsible for its maintenance.

Top Graduates At Potomac State

The two top students in the 1963 graduating class at Potomac State College in Keyser were Robert Clements, of Keyser and Miss Martha Jean Bonafield, Kingwood. Miss Bonafield's two-year average was 3.898 and Clements' was 3.757. She completed a course in pre-education and Clements was a chemistry major. These two, along with Miss Rebecca Ann Harshbarger, Piedmont, compiled 4.0 (straight A) averages for the semester just ending.

Tri-Towns Organizations Plan Centennial Events

PIEDMONT — Joseph Stanislawczyke, Keyser, West Virginia Centennial representative for Mineral County, outlined plans for the event at a meeting of the Tri-Towns Community Council Monday evening.

The council decided to promote active participation in the Centennial in the Tri-Towns. Dr. Robert W. Bess, president, said this will help business and generate enthusiasm in the community.

He hopes to have all organizations and groups participate in promoting the project throughout the summer. Costumes for ladies may be purchased at $5 for any size.

The final week of celebration was set tentatively for the last week of August, following closing festivities in Keyser. It was suggested that Blue Angel Week, sponsored by Victory Post 155, be arranged to coincide with the program in Piedmont.

Activities suggested were old fashioned bathing suits to be worn by the lifeguards at the swimming pool, dances on the parking lot Wednesday evenings after stores close, water battles by the Fire Companies and Brothers of the Brush.

Richard Smith is chairman of the centennial committee.

It was decided to incorporate the council as a non-profit organization.

Mrs. Virginia Poland was appointed a director to fill the unexpired term of Rev. Frederick W. Simmel, who resigned because of previous committments.

Mrs. Elmer Shaver, membership committee chairman, submitted a list of 77 names which were voted for membership in the group.

Voting Rolls Total 10,950

The City of Cumberland had 10,950 registered voters at the end of May, six more than were eligible to take part in the May 21 fluoridation referendum.

The lack of registration activity reflected the fact that books were closed from May 13 to May 29, as required by election laws, because of the election.

Six new voters, five men and one woman, were added to the books. No names were removed because of the election.

The books this Monday included the names of 5,733 women and 5,217 men for a total of 10,950.

Elkins Truck Driver Faces Charge In Crash

WHEELING, W. Va. (UPI) — A 38-year-old Elkins truck driver was charged with unsafe operation of a vehicle after a tractor-trailer he was driving careened into a house at nearby McMechen early Tuesday.

The truck went out of control, plunged over an embankment and landed almost in the bedroom of Mr. and Mrs. Homer W. Sloan. Neither of the Sloans nor driver Red Thorn were seriously injured but damage to the house, the truck, and its contents was estimated at $63,000.

McMechen Mayor L. D. Slonaker said a patrolman had been trailing Thorn when the accident occurred. He said the truck was going 35 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone.

You Can't Leave It All To 'George'

A New Jersey man, Vincent Baron, driving through Washington the day the Grand Duchess Charlotte of Luxembourg was being welcomed there, stopped his car to pick up an American flag that had fallen onto the roadway. Annoyed drivers behind him honked and Mr. Baron wondered about their apparent lack of concern about the fallen flag.

He wondered even more when, farther on, he encountered five more flags brought down into the street by the gusty wind. In half an hour 600 cars rolled over the flags as though they were so much litter. Mr. Baron picked them up and then wrote a calm but provocative letter to a Washington newspaper, the gist of which was, what's happening to us that hundreds could drive across our flag without feeling duty-bound to pick it up?

Some may suggest that something's happened to American patriotism, which may assume more indifference or ignorance than was probably involved in this incident. Another explanation is a public attitude the government itself has encouraged — that of letting George do it.

In the seat of a government which compulsively assumes more and more responsibilities that once were the individual citizen's, it is hardly surprising no one—except the New Jersey visitor—assumed the responsibility for picking up those trampled flags.

These Days

By John Chamberlain

The Strenuous Life, Unlimited

Only yesterday it was an article of faith that we had become a sedentary population, addicted to sitting in the bleachers while a few special performers such as Willie Mays and Mickey Mantle and the late Ernie Davis did the hard work of using their muscles. The cliche about our passivity was part of the standard kit of almost every intellectual who liked to indulge in the sport of America-baiting.

Well, certain statistics collected and released recently by various associations have killed the cliche deader than a fence post. The National Recreational Association says there are 7,500,000 softball players and 3,000,000 volleyball players at large and practicing their skills. The American Camping Association comes up with the statistic that 36,000,000 people engage in recreational boating, with 7,000,000 of them owning their own craft. The National Golf Foundation informs us that some 4,000,000 persons play an average of fifteen rounds of golf a year.

All of these millions have been testing their physical reflexes and getting out into the open air while the White House has been entertaining the idea that nobody has any muscles any more. Maybe the 4,000,000 golfers won't walk fifty miles a day per person in the course of whacking a ball about the links, but most of them do get around without using those power go-carts that are in favor with septuagenarians who still like to use an iron.

The only place, in fact, where the cult of personal strenuosity has not taken hold is with that curious breed of parent that has high ambitions for their young in things like ballet, modern dance and figure skating. As the husband of a modern dance teacher and the father of a couple of figure-skating daughters, I see a good deal of the sort of parents who are tyrannical about enforcing discipline on their kids while they grow softer themselves by the hour. My preaching instinct always prompts me to tell them to get out there and dance or skate themselves. The other day, going home by train from a spring ice skating session at New York's Madison Square Garden, I found myself moved to this exhortation:

The mothers sit by the side of the rink
Watching the little girls skate.
The mothers drop their stitches at the ballet
school
To follow the clean curve of the arabesque.

What do the mothers think of as the young knees turn out
In spreadeagle or fifth position?

The daughters, they think to themselves, shall never grow old.
The shoulders slumped, the pelvic bones slanted
to earth,
The diaphragm a dead weight on the stomach.

The world, they say, shall be recreated
In the strong, vibrant flesh of the young.

But the daughters, seeing the mothers in the stands of the rink,
Or knitting in the chairs at the ballet school,
Absorb the pattern of a crazy race.
Skating and dancing, they say to themselves,
Are things for the young, to be put away with age.

And so the mothers are robbed of their vision
Of a race purged and renewed in the young.
The young grow old by example, become mothers in their turn
Sitting by the side of the rink or the ballet dancing class,
The lapsed pelvic bones pressing inertly
into the thighs,
The hips buried in flesh.

Only the teacher remains young, a licensed libertine of sanity.

O crazy race,
When will it let the mothers dance
For joy of being with the young?
When will it make the children sit a while Waiting their turn with the teacher,
Absorbing the knowledge that age is not a state
of burden,
A time of toneless muscles and lapsed bones?

Why should the teacher alone be permitted
The gift of sanity in a world gone mad?

I don't claim much for the foregoing as free verse. But let it stand as this columnist's contribution to the drive of the brothers Kennedy to get everybody up and doing something. If we had a ninety or a ninety-five per cent national statistic of athletic participation, think of the money we'd save on sleeping pills, tranquillizers and bills for psychiatric treatment.

Federal Desegregation Law Is Urgently Needed

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

By the Justice Department's initial, incomplete count, more than 30 Negro mass demonstrations against racial discrimination occurred in the last seven days.

In Chicago, 1,700 Negroes gathered to protest a cemetery's refusal to cremate the body of a Negro woman. In Los Angeles, 30,000 filled the city stadium to mark their sympathy with the Negroes of Birmingham. In North Carolina alone, there were six major or minor demonstrations. This is the context in which the grim tale of the Jackson, Miss., school children must be read.

It is disgusting, not to say macabre, that American citizens should be driven to use the device of mass protest, over a hundred years since the Civil War began, for the sole purpose of securing equal treatment with their fellows. When you think of that Chicago cemetery's refusing to cremate a dead woman because of the color of her skin, you ask yourself whether the Christian tradition has not somehow lost its substance.

Meanwhile, however, the practical fact must also be faced that the country is confronted with a new phenomenon. The long passivity and the subsequent sporadic anger of the Negro people have now been transmuted into a new mass feeling. Attorney General Robert Kennedy, who knows more about the matter than anyone else, expects the mass protest movement to grow rather than subside.

It is a fearful thing to say, but it is nonetheless the truth that so far the United States has been lucky in the outcome of these protests. Things have happened, scenes have been enacted, which ought to have shocked any American who believes in freedom, be he Christian or atheist. Yet no one has been killed.

But if the mass protests increase from 30 or 40 a week, to 60 or 80 a week, it is impossible to suppose that the luck will hold. Somewhere, somehow, emotions will rise too high, or the police dogs of another Commissioner "Bull" Connor will break their leashes, or something else will happen, and blood will be shed.

The blood may indeed be shed by Negro demonstrators. That possibility has to be faced, for Negro emotions, very naturally, are rising especially rapidly. Violence cannot be condoned. But if blood is shed, those who shed it will only share the guilt with those who obstinately seek to perpetuate the system of unequal rights.

This is the real background of the Kennedy administration's last-minute decision to offer a new Civil Rights bill to Congress. Until a few weeks ago, the Administration was content to try what could be done with a quieter but no less energetic approach to the problem.

Attorney General Kennedy, the President himself, other members of the Cabinet when they could be helpful, have all spent time and effort without stint to persuade key businessmen in segregationist states to move forward toward desegration. This massive but unseen effort has brought results, but not enough results, as the present crisis proves.

Furthermore, the unseen effort has revealed a pattern justifying a call for legislation. Among the many scores of department store owners, theater owners, and the like whom Attorney General Kennedy has urged to accept desegregation, not one has failed to admit that desegregation was ultimately unavoidable. Often they have said it was desirable.

Many have refused to move, however, or have moved only by the poorest half-measures, and always on the same excuse. They have said that if "everybody would do it," they would be glad to desegregate. But they have been reluctant to "do it all alone." In other words, they have been reluctant to move because they feared the white extremists on the other side.

These responses show the need for positive legislation desegregating public facilities — legislation which will serve as a shelter, so to say, behind which those who wish to desegregate but dare not can go forward safely. Federal legislation is also needed to justify federal intervention.

Without such legislation, moreover, the government has no excuse to intervene unless blood has been shed or the danger of bloodshed is imminent. And that is precisely what ought to be prevented in advance.

These facts, plus the rise of the mass protest movement, have led to the decision to ask for a law desegregating public facilities in all business and institutions which come under the commerce clause of the Constitution, by selling goods in interstate commerce or otherwise.

The bill will certainly impede the rest of the Administration's legislative program. It will not pass, either, without active Republican support, which may not be forthcoming because of the rising power of the Goldwater Republican wing. But the time is getting very late; and the hour when politics could safely be played with this problem has long since passed.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

'FROM MOUTHS OF CHILDREN'—Rep. Charles S. Joelson of New Jersey seated a constituent and his 7-year-old son in the House visitors' gallery recently while he participated in some legislative debate.

When it was all over, Joelson rejoined the two and the proud parent asked the tyke if he knew what the congressman had been doing. "Making noise," came the uninhibited response from the youngster.

The flustered father diplomatically explained that his son didn't talk too plainly, and what he had really said was that Joelson was "making laws." However, the congressman balefully shook his head as he retold the incident, remarking, "I'm not convinced. I'm afraid that the answer as I heard it was a bit too true for comfort."

THAT HITLER STORY — The Russians, after 18 years, have confirmed the news story of a former American correspondent that Adolf Hitler's body had been found and identified.

The former correspondent, Ned Nordness, is now a public affairs adviser for the U. S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency. As a war correspondent, he wrote that a Tass Agency newsman told him flatly that Hitler's body had been found. The Russian correspondent reported that a Soveit general had confirmed the finding of the body and identification had been established through charts of Hitler's dental work and his peculiarly pointed ears.

A day or so after Nordness sent his news story, the Tass correspondent disapeared without explanation. Nordness has always thought that he was abruptly recalled to his homeland because of his indiscretion in leaking the Hitler death story to Western newsmen.

Infantile Eczema Sign Of Inherited Allergy

By Theodore R. Van Dellen

Mary had eczema when she was 2 months old. Cow's milk was responsible and the weeping, itching lesions disappeared when a substitute milk was prescribed. But she was not cured; her infantile eczema was merely a sign the youngster had inherited an allergic constitution.

Her parents were told that at some future time the girl might develop other signs of sensitivity such as rhinitis, hay fever, asthma, or a gastrointestinal or drug allergy. This possibility had to be kept in mind, even though infantile eczema usually clears by age 2, regardless of the cause.

In some respects, Mary was fortunate because the cause of her first brush with allergy was easily detected and eliminated. Other allergens might be more difficult to find, including almost anything that is inhaled or touched.

Is there anything the parents can do to delay or avoid asthma or other allergic disorders? The secret is to minimize contact with the most likely culprits. But parents must be careful not to be so strict the child suffers when deprived of certain foods or contacts.

Milk, wheat, and eggs are frequent offenders but it is particularly difficult for school children to avoid these foods. We have seen one tyke whose legs and face become puffy because of lack of protein; her parents were overzealous in their attempt to avoid eczema.

On the other hand, it is easier to minimize the most prevalent allergens — dust and animal dander — by keeping the home clean and not having a dog or cat. The rooms should be furnished simply, without dust-collecting draperies, heavy rugs, down and feather pillows or comforts, and overstuffed furniture. A mattress and pillow stuffed with good quality hair or fiberglass are best and the youngster ought to avoid contact with woolen materials and wooly toys.

Drugs are producing more and more allergies. The potential victims should not be given medicines indiscriminately, especially those used on the skin or mucous membranes. Such products tend to sensitize susceptible individuals. On the other hand, they must not be withheld when needed.

Dr. Van Dellen will send leaflet on infantile eczema if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

WORRISOME BOY

J. P. writes: Our 6-year-old son is a worrier and is getting worse. He's afraid his head will come off, that he will get a hole in his neck, or that he will never stop growing. He cries a lot and doesn't want me away from him. Do you think he needs mental care?

REPLY

Perhaps, but why not see your family physician first for a complete physical examination. The boy may be ill physically.

NOT A SIGN

L. Z. writes: Is there any truth to the statement that if a young person likes chocolate, he is a future candidate for alcoholism?

REPLY

This is a new one and makes as much sense as saying a person likes butter if holding a dandelion under the chin casts a yellow reflection.

DECIBEL LOSS

A. W. writes: I applied for a job and the company doctor gave me a hearing test. He said I have a 63 decibel loss but would not tell me what it means. Is it bad?

REPLY

Deafness is marked when an audiogram shows a decibel loss of between 60 and 80.

YOUNG SOUTHPAW

A. C. writes: If a small child appears to be using the left hand, is it advisable to try to make him use the right?

REPLY

Offer objects to this child in such a way that he is free to use either hand. If he continues to prefer the left, don't try to make him right handed.

TOMORROW: The constipated oldster.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of diseases will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

A woman who weighs something over 300 pounds had an interesting experience while flying by jet from Denver to New York recently. Shortly after the take-off a stewardess tapped her on the shoulder and invited her to move from the tourist section to a seat in the first-class compartment. "I'm flattered," said the woman, "but wonder why you've singled me out for this V.I.P. treatment." "Madam," explained the stewardess candidly, "we have a weight problem."

Joe McCarthy tells of two robbers who made a gigantic haul in a bank stick-up. Looking at the huge pile of green backs on a table in their hideaway, one robber suggested, "Instead of counting all this money, let's wait till morning and look at the newspapers to see how much we got!"

Another Joe McCarthy story: A family group, having dinner at a Broadway restaurant, reached the dessert course. The 10-year-old daughter said to the waiter, "What kind of pastry do you have?" Then, before he could answer, she added, "And, by the way, what IS pastry?"

Trouble With Engineers Only One Reason For Lay-Up Of SS Savannah

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — When the atomic merchant vessel Savannah was about ready to put to sea during the Eisenhower Administration the Atomic Energy Commission sent members of its crew to a charm school.

The charm course was conducted by Molesworth Associates in New York City and chiefly consisted of viewing a couple of telephone company films on how to treat the public politely, plus a press conference and lunch at the Downtown Athletic Club. Total cost to the government: $5,000.

The charm course, however, did not seem to take last September during crew trouble, the engineers shut off the toilets on the Savannah, then the refrigerators, the air cooling and the electric stoves.

Uncle Sam spent four years training them to operate atomic equipment but trouble with the engineers continued.

Finally, just as the Savannah was about to sail to European ports with a paid passenger list to win friends and show the atomic might of the U. S. A., the engineers continued uncharming, their contract was cancelled and the ship was laid up for six months.

Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges noted that the engineers were paid $14,000 to $22,000 a year and that the Eisenhower Administration had spent not $53,000,000 as estimated, but $90,000,000 building the Savannah. Obviously Hodges was not in a charming mood.

His new No. 1 assistant, Franklin Roosevelt Jr., can be just as charming as his late father, but obviously he was not in a charming mood either when he made a blunt announcement cancelling not only the engineers' contract but also the government contract with the States Marine Lines, which had been commissioned to operate the Savannah.

GOP Politics

Both Secretary Hodges and Undersecretary Roosevelt, however, were discreet regarding a set of facts which reflected on a high-up official of the Kennedy Administration — John McCone, chief of Central Intelligence.

It happened that the beginning of the inefficiency which has dogged America's most famous atomic peacetime vessel dates back to the strange manner in which the ship's operating contract was let to a strong GOP backer.

In the spring of 1958 Clarence Morse, the Maritime Administrator, appointed a committee of experts to recommend which steamship line was best qualified to operate the spanking new Savannah. The six experts, all career shipping men with no political axes to grind, reviewed the seven lines and recommended the American Presidents Line, with more than thirty years of American flag experience, as the best qualified.

The others, in the order of recommendation, were: 2. Isbrandtsen; 3. Farrell; 4. Moore-McCormack; 5. Pacific Far East; 6. States Marine; 7. U. S. Lines.

States Marine, the line in which John McCone has a working partnership, was next to last but, believe it or not, ended up getting the contract.

The Maritime Commission was then under Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks, former treasurer of the Republican National Committee, and the American Presidents Line, No. 1 on the list, is headed by George Killion, former treasurer of the Democratic National Committee.

So the recommendation of the experts was reversed. To make the reversal more plausible, they were told to revise their standards, and eliminate passenger experience as a criterion. Even with this new instruction, however, the board of experts came up with the American Presidents Line, headed by the former treasurer of the Democratic National Committee, as the best qualified to operate a ship which a Republican Administration was claiming as a great triumph.

In the end, Sinclair Weeks and his Maritime Board completely ignored the experts and gave the Savannah to the company dominated by GOP backer John McCone, the States Marine Lines. It did this despite two important facts which should have induced a contrary decision:

1. States Marine has chiefly flown foreign flags and used foreign crews in order to get around U. S. shipping laws. Yet the Savannah was supposed to fly the American flag proudly and sail with an American crew efficiently.

2. John McCone, then chariman of the Atomic Energy Commission, obviously was in the position of having a conflict of interest, for the Savannah was built under the jurisdiction of the Atomic Energy Commission; yet the operating contract went to a company in which McCone and his family owned a major interest.

Despite this, President Kennedy later placed John McCone in the all-important job of chief of Central Intelligence.

During the Senate debate regarding his confirmation, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, a Republican, raised the question of McCone's conflict of interest, as did Senators Wayne Morse, Ore., Ernest Gruening, Alaska, William Proxmire, Wis., and several others. Sen. Smith quoted Kennedy's stirring words during the 1960 election campaign pledging no conflicts of interest.

However, President Kennedy apparently did not think this applied to a good friend of his father's, and he was confirmed.

Tomorrow's Wings Today

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—The DC-7 weighed 90,800 pounds. It was coming down 400 feet over Pomona Road. Below, the trucks and cars slid under the wings. Bill Stephens, a rugged blue-eyed face with a crew cut, stared out the side window. His arms were folded. This is an awkward position for a pilot about to land 45 tons weight moving at 137 knots.

No hands were on the yokes. They moved back and forth, they made turns. The throttles advanced by themselves, then moved back. The plane was landing itself. On the far end of the runway, a BLEU machine was doing the work. No human being was there either. The machine took charge of the four-engine plane at an altitude of 500 feet, asked its altitude and speed and position, received automatic answers from a black box, then banked the plane to a position parallel to the airport, turned the nose down, trimmed the tabs, throttled the engines, crabbed the big ship against a cross-wind, brought it in on the middle of the strip, and idled the engines.

I was here. I saw it. I sat in the co-pilot's seat and saw BLEU do the impossible—sit on the end of a runway like a tawny spider and bring a plane in safely as though in a pea soup fog. All the machine did was take a DC-7 out of its memory file, scan the characteristics, and go to work. A black box on the plane sent out information automatically — altitude, speed, type of plane—and BLEU did the rest. I saw it three times. Utterly impossible.

It never makes a mistake. The pilot does not have to be on a glide path. He can be anywhere within 135 degrees of the runway and, at an altitude of 500 feet, BLEU says: "Relax, my friend. I'll do the rest." Within the next few years, BLEU will be operating at all major airports.

This is but one of the wonders of Tomorrow's Air Travel. They are all to be found here, at the Federal Aviation Agency's Experimental Center. It consists of 5,000 acres, 200 buildings, and 2,100 civil and military employees. A much decorated colonel, William Harrison, runs the place. He works for Joseph Blatt, director of FAA's Systems Research and Development section. Blatt is a dark full moon of a man, who beams approval on scientists and experiments as he moves from building to building.

In one place, he paused long enough to watch a group of men fire four pounds of hamburger, wrapped in a plastic bag, at the leading edge of a steel tail section of a plane. It was fired from a pneumatic pipe at 237 miles per hour and it punched a seven-inch hole into the tail. Too many birds are hitting planes these days, and the FAA has learned that some migratory birds fly as high as 18,000 feet.

Wings, windshields and rudder sections are going to have to be stronger. The hamburger simulates a good-sized bird, and it can be fired at speeds up to 500 m.p.h. Last year, a Viscount and all aboard were lost over Maryland in normal flight because of birds. The year before, at Logan Airport in Boston, a plane crashed on takeoff because of birds.

It is 60 years since the Wright Brothers lifted their box kite off the dunes at Kittyhawk, N. C. Planes and lives are too expensive to risk, so this experimental center is a bad news organization; it is always working to correct something, to improve good planes, to install more and more safety into air travel.

One of the failures is a radar in 3-D, one which tells the altitude of a plane as well as where it is and which direction it is moving and how fast. Blatt's boys decided to solve this matter by working, not on a new radar set, but on planes. They now have a little black box weighing five pounds, costing $800, which has no vacuum tubes and no parts which will wear out.

It will be ready for big planes within a year. The box, without any direction from the pilot, will send out information about its identity, its altitude, its speed, whether it is climbing, cruising, or descending, and, on regular commercial flights, will tell whether it is 20 seconds ahead of time, or 20 behind.

An operator at an advanced radar set can circle any plane with a tiny ring of dots and, on the radar scope, the plane will automatically give printed information: "A123 290 ʌ 270 2E." Translation: "I am American Airlines Flight 123 assigned to 29,000 feet, climbing to it from 27,000. I am two minutes early."

I saw an advanced radar set, a huge green dish which can take the scannings from Newark Airport, LaGuardia and Idlewild and mix them on one plate. A traffic controller can see at a glance where traffic is heavy, where it is light, whether proper buffer zones are being maintained between airports, and he can redirect traffic so that the flow is smooth and unimpeded.

The earth began to shrink when the air age was born. Now the air ocean above us is beginning to shrink. In five years, planes carrying 200 passengers will be fighting for space at 80,000 feet and moving at 2,500 miles per hour without strain. It is the business of this experimental center to anticipate problems and solve them now.

I still don't believe that no-hands landing . . .

You Can't Leave It All To 'George'

A New Jersey man, Vincent Baron, driving through Washington the day the Grand Duchess Charlotte of Luxembourg was being welcomed there, stopped his car to pick up an American flag that had fallen onto the roadway. Annoyed drivers behind him honked and Mr. Baron wondered about their apparent lack of concern about the fallen flag.

He wondered even more when, farther on, he encountered five more flags brought down into the street by the gusty wind. In half an hour 600 cars rolled over the flags as though they were so much litter. Mr. Baron picked them up and then wrote a calm but provocative letter to a Washington newspaper, the gist of which was, what's happening to us that hundreds could drive across our flag without feeling duty-bound to pick it up?

Some may suggest that something's happened to American patriotism, which may assume more indifference or ignorance than was probably involved in this incident. Another explanation is a public attitude the government itself has encouraged — that of letting George do it.

In the seat of a government which compulsively assumes more and more responsibilities that once were the individual citizen's, it is hardly surprising no one—except the New Jersey visitor—assumed the responsibility for picking up those trampled flags.

These Days

The Strenuous Life, Unlimited

Only yesterday it was an article of faith that we had become a sedentary population, addicted to sitting in the bleachers while a few special performers such as Willie Mays and Mickey Mantle and the late Ernie Davis did the hard work of using their muscles. The cliche about our passivity was part of the standard kit of almost every intellectual who liked to indulge in the sport of America-baiting.

Well, certain statistics collected and released recently by various associations have killed the cliche deader than a fence post. The National Recreational Association says there are 7,500,000 softball players and 3,000,000 volleyball players at large and practicing their skills. The American Camping Association comes up with the statistic that 36,000,000 people engage in recreational boating, with 7,000,000 of them owning their own craft. The National Golf Foundation informs us that some 4,000,000 persons play an average of fifteen rounds of golf a year.

All of these millions have been testing their physical reflexes and getting out into the open air while the White House has been entertaining the idea that nobody has any muscles any more. Maybe the 4,000,000 golfers won't walk fifty miles a day per person in the course of whacking a ball about the links, but most of them do get around without using those power go-carts that are in favor with septuagenarians who still like to use an iron.

The only place, in fact, where the cult of personal strenuosity has not taken hold is with that curious breed of parent that has high ambitions for their young in things like ballet, modern dance and figure skating. As the husband of a modern dance teacher and the father of a couple of figure-skating daughters, I see a good deal of the sort of parents who are tyrannical about enforcing discipline on their kids while they grow softer themselves by the hour. My preaching instinct always prompts me to tell them to get out there and dance or skate themselves. The other day, going home by train from a spring ice skating session at New York's Madison Square Garden, I found myself moved to this exhortation:

The mothers sit by the side of the rink
Watching the little girls skate.
  school
To follow the clean curve of the arabesque.

What do the mothers think of as the young
  knees turn out
In spreadeagle or fifth position?

The daughters, they think to themselves, shall never grow old.
The shoulders slumped, the pelvic bones slanted
  to earth,
The diaphragm a dead weight on the stomach.

The world, they say, shall be recreated
In the strong, vibrant flesh of the young.

But the daughters, seeing the mothers in the
  stands of the rink,
Or knitting in the chairs at the ballet school,
Absorb the pattern of a crazy race.
Skating and dancing, they say to themselves,
Are things for the young, to be put away with age.

And so the mothers are robbed of their vision
  young.
The young grow old by example, become mothers in their turn
Sitting by the side of the rink or the ballet
  dancing class,
The lapsed pelvic bones pressing inertly
  into the thighs,
The hips buried in flesh.

Only the teacher remains young, a licensed
  libertine of sanity.

O crazy race,
When will it let the mothers dance
For joy of being with the young?
When will it make the children sit a while Waiting their turn with the teacher,
Absorbing the knowledge that age is not a state
  of burden,
A time of toneless muscles and lapsed bones?

Why should the teacher alone be permitted
The gift of sanity in a world gone mad?

I don't claim much for the foregoing as free verse. But let it stand as this columnist's contribution to the drive of the brothers Kennedy to get everybody up and doing something. If we had a ninety or a ninety-five per cent national statistic of athletic participation, think of the money we'd save on sleeping pills, tranquillizers and bills for psychiatric treatment.

Federal Desegregation Law Is Urgently Needed

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

By the Justice Department's initial, incomplete count, more than 30 Negro mass demonstrations against racial discrimination occurred in the last seven days.

In Chicago, 1,700 Negroes gathered to protest a cemetery's refusal to cremate the body of a Negro woman. In Los Angeles, 30,000 filled the city stadium to mark their sympathy with the Negroes of Birmingham. In North Carolina alone, there were six major or minor demonstrations. This is the context in which the grim tale of the Jackson, Miss., school children must be read.

It is disgusting, not to say macabre, that American citizens should be driven to use the device of mass protest, over a hundred years since the Civil War began, for the sole purpose of securing equal treatment with their fellows. When you think of that Chicago cemetery's refusing to cremate a dead woman because of the color of her skin, you ask yourself whether the Christian tradition has not somehow lost its substance.

Meanwhile, however, the practical fact must also be faced that the country is confronted with a new phenomenon. The long passivity and the subsequent sporadic anger of the Negro people have now been transmuted into a new mass feeling. Attorney General Robert Kennedy, who knows more about the matter than anyone else, expects the mass protest movement to grow rather than subside.

It is a fearful thing to say, but it is nonetheless the truth that so far the United States has been lucky in the outcome of these protests. Things have happened, scenes have been enacted, which ought to have shocked any American who believes in freedom, be he Christian or atheist. Yet no one has been killed.

But if the mass protests increase from 30 or 40 a week, to 60 or 80 a week, it is impossible to suppose that the luck will hold. Somewhere, somehow, emotions will rise too high, or the police dogs of another Commissioner "Bull" Connor will break their leashes, or something else will happen, and blood will be shed.

The blood may indeed be shed by Negro demonstrators. That possibility has to be faced, for Negro emotions, very naturally, are rising especially rapidly. Violence cannot be condoned. But if blood is shed, those who shed it will only share the guilt with those who obstinately seek to perpetuate the system of unequal rights.

This is the real background of the Kennedy administration's last-minute decision to offer a new Civil Rights bill to Congress. Until a few weeks ago, the Administration was content to try what could be done with a quieter but no less energetic approach to the problem.

Attorney General Kennedy, the President himself, other members of the Cabinet when they could be helpful, have all spent time and effort without stint to persuade key businessmen in segregationist states to move forward toward desegration. This massive but unseen effort has brought results, but not enough results, as the present crisis proves.

Furthermore, the unseen effort has revealed a pattern justifying a call for legislation. Among the many scores of department store owners, theater owners, and the like whom Attorney General Kennedy has urged to accept desegregation, not one has failed to admit that desegregation was ultimately unavoidable. Often they have said it was desirable.

Many have refused to move, however, or have moved only by the poorest half-measures, and always on the same excuse. They have said that if "everybody would do it," they would be glad to desegregate. But they have been reluctant to "do it all alone." In other words, they have been reluctant to move because they feared the white extremists on the other side.

These responses show the need for positive legislation desegregating public facilities — legislation which will serve as a shelter, so to say, behind which those who wish to desegregate but dare not can go forward safely. Federal legislation is also needed to justify federal intervention.

Without such legislation, moreover, the government has no excuse to intervene unless blood has been shed or the danger of bloodshed is imminent. And that is precisely what ought to be prevented in advance.

These facts, plus the rise of the mass protest movement, have led to the decision to ask for a law desegregating public facilities in all business and institutions which come under the commerce clause of the Constitution, by selling goods in interstate commerce or otherwise.

The bill will certainly impede the rest of the Administration's legislative program. It will not pass, either, without active Republican support, which may not be forthcoming because of the rising power of the Goldwater Republican wing. But the time is getting very late; and the hour when politics could safely be played with this problem has long since passed.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

'FROM MOUTHS OF CHILDREN'—Rep. Charles S. Joelson of New Jersey seated a constituent and his 7-year-old son in the House visitors' gallery recently while he participated in some legislative debate.

When it was all over, Joelson rejoined the two and the proud parent asked the tyke if he knew what the congressman had been doing. "Making noise," came the uninhibited response from the youngster.

The flustered father diplomatically explained that his son didn't talk too plainly, and what he had really said was that Joelson was "making laws." However, the congressman balefully shook his head as he retold the incident, remarking, "I'm not convinced. I'm afraid that the answer as I heard it was a bit too true for comfort."

THAT HITLER STORY — The Russians, after 18 years, have confirmed the news story of a former American correspondent that Adolf Hitler's body had been found and identified.

The former correspondent, Ned Nordness, is now a public affairs adviser for the U. S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency. As a war correspondent, he wrote that a Tass Agency newsman told him flatly that Hitler's body had been found. The Russian correspondent reported that a Soveit general had confirmed the finding of the body and identification had been established through charts of Hitler's dental work and his peculiarly pointed ears.

A day or so after Nordness sent his news story, the Tass correspondent disapeared without explanation. Nordness has always thought that he was abruptly recalled to his homeland because of his indiscretion in leaking the Hitler death story to Western newsmen.

Infantile Eczema Sign Of Inherited Allergy

By Theodore R. Van Dellen

Mary had eczema when she was 2 months old. Cow's milk was responsible and the weeping, itching lesions disappeared when a substitute milk was prescribed. But she was not cured; her infantile eczema was merely a sign the youngster had inherited an allergic constitution.

Her parents were told that at some future time the girl might develop other signs of sensitivity such as rhinitis, hay fever, asthma, or a gastrointestinal or drug allergy. This possibility had to be kept in mind, even though infantile eczema usually clears by age 2, regardless of the cause.

In some respects, Mary was fortunate because the cause of her first brush with allergy was easily detected and eliminated. Other allergens might be more difficult to find, including almost anything that is inhaled or touched.

Is there anything the parents can do to delay or avoid asthma or other allergic disorders? The secret is to minimize contact with the most likely culprits. But parents must be careful not to be so strict the child suffers when deprived of certain foods or contacts.

Milk, wheat, and eggs are frequent offenders but it is particularly difficult for school children to avoid these foods. We have seen one tyke whose legs and face become puffy because of lack of protein; her parents were overzealous in their attempt to avoid eczema.

On the other hand, it is easier to minimize the most prevalent allergens — dust and animal dander — by keeping the home clean and not having a dog or cat. The rooms should be furnished simply, without dust-collecting draperies, heavy rugs, down and feather pillows or comforts, and overstuffed furniture. A mattress and pillow stuffed with good quality hair or fiberglass are best and the youngster ought to avoid contact with woolen materials and wooly toys.

Drugs are producing more and more allergies. The potential victims should not be given medicines indiscriminately, especially those used on the skin or mucous membranes. Such products tend to sensitize susceptible individuals. On the other hand, they must not be withheld when needed.

Dr. Van Dellen will send leaflet on infantile eczema if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

WORRISOME BOY

J. P. writes: Our 6-year-old son is a worrier and is getting worse. He's afraid his head will come off, that he will get a hole in his neck, or that he will never stop growing. He cries a lot and doesn't want me away from him. Do you think he needs mental care?

REPLY

Perhaps, but why not see your family physician first for a complete physical examination. The boy may be ill physically.

NOT A SIGN

L. Z. writes: Is there any truth to the statement that if a young person likes chocolate, he is a future candidate for alcoholism?

REPLY

This is a new one and makes as much sense as saying a person likes butter if holding a dandelion under the chin casts a yellow reflection.

DECIBEL LOSS

A. W. writes: I applied for a job and the company doctor gave me a hearing test. He said I have a 63 decibel loss but would not tell me what it means. Is it bad?

REPLY

Deafness is marked when an audiogram shows a decibel loss of between 60 and 80.

YOUNG SOUTHPAW

A. C. writes: If a small child appears to be using the left hand, is it advisable to try to make him use the right?

REPLY

Offer objects to this child in such a way that he is free to use either hand. If he continues to prefer the left, don't try to make him right handed.

TOMORROW: The constipated oldster.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of diseases will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

A woman who weighs something over 300 pounds had an interesting experience while flying by jet from Denver to New York recently. Shortly after the take-off a stewardess tapped her on the shoulder and invited her to move from the tourist section to a seat in the first-class compartment. "I'm flattered," said the woman, "but wonder why you've singled me out for this V.I.P. treatment." "Madam," explained the stewardess candidly, "we have a weight problem."

Joe McCarthy tells of two robbers who made a gigantic haul in a bank stick-up. Looking at the huge pile of green backs on a table in their hideaway, one robber suggested, "Instead of counting all this money, let's wait till morning and look at the newspapers to see how much we got!"

Another Joe McCarthy story: A family group, having dinner at a Broadway restaurant, reached the dessert course. The 10-year-old daughter said to the waiter, "What kind of pastry do you have?" Then, before he could answer, she added, "And, by the way, what IS pastry?"

Tomorrow's Wings Today

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—The DC-7 weighed 90,800 pounds. It was coming down 400 feet over Pomona Road. Below, the trucks and cars slid under the wings. Bill Stephens, a rugged blue-eyed face with a crew cut, stared out the side window. His arms were folded. This is an awkward position for a pilot about to land 45 tons weight moving at 137 knots.

No hands were on the yokes. They moved back and forth, they made turns. The throttles advanced by themselves, then moved back. The plane was landing itself. On the far end of the runway, a BLEU machine was doing the work. No human being was there either. The machine took charge of the four-engine plane at an altitude of 500 feet, asked its altitude and speed and position, received automatic answers from a black box, then banked the plane to a position parallel to the airport, turned the nose down, trimmed the tabs, throttled the engines, crabbed the big ship against a cross-wind, brought it in on the middle of the strip, and idled the engines.

I was here. I saw it. I sat in the co-pilot's seat and saw BLEU do the impossible—sit on the end of a runway like a tawny spider and bring a plane in safely as though in a pea soup fog. All the machine did was take a DC-7 out of its memory file, scan the characteristics, and go to work. A black box on the plane sent out information automatically — altitude, speed, type of plane—and BLEU did the rest. I saw it three times. Utterly impossible.

It never makes a mistake. The pilot does not have to be on a glide path. He can be anywhere within 135 degrees of the runway and, at an altitude of 500 feet, BLEU says: "Relax, my friend. I'll do the rest." Within the next few years, BLEU will be operating at all major airports.

This is but one of the wonders of Tomorrow's Air Travel. They are all to be found here, at the Federal Aviation Agency's Experimental Center. It consists of 5,000 acres, 200 buildings, and 2,100 civil and military employees. A much decorated colonel, William Harrison, runs the place. He works for Joseph Blatt, director of FAA's Systems Research and Development section. Blatt is a dark full moon of a man, who beams approval on scientists and experiments as he moves from building to building.

In one place, he paused long enough to watch a group of men fire four pounds of hamburger, wrapped in a plastic bag, at the leading edge of a steel tail section of a plane. It was fired from a pneumatic pipe at 237 miles per hour and it punched a seven-inch hole into the tail. Too many birds are hitting planes these days, and the FAA has learned that some migratory birds fly as high as 18,000 feet.

Wings, windshields and rudder sections are going to have to be stronger. The hamburger simulates a good-sized bird, and it can be fired at speeds up to 500 m.p.h. Last year, a Viscount and all aboard were lost over Maryland in normal flight because of birds. The year before, at Logan Airport in Boston, a plane crashed on takeoff because of birds.

It is 60 years since the Wright Brothers lifted their box kite off the dunes at Kittyhawk, N. C. Planes and lives are too expensive to risk, so this experimental center is a bad news organization; it is always working to correct something, to improve good planes, to install more and more safety into air travel.

One of the failures is a radar in 3-D, one which tells the altitude of a plane as well as where it is and which direction it is moving and how fast. Blatt's boys decided to solve this matter by working, not on a new radar set, but on planes. They now have a little black box weighing five pounds, costing $800, which has no vacuum tubes and no parts which will wear out.

It will be ready for big planes within a year. The box, without any direction from the pilot, will send out information about its identity, its altitude, its speed, whether it is climbing, cruising, or descending, and, on regular commercial flights, will tell whether it is 20 seconds ahead of time, or 20 behind.

An operator at an advanced radar set can circle any plane with a tiny ring of dots and, on the radar scope, the plane will automatically give printed information: "A123 290 ^ 270 2E." Translation: "I am American Airlines Flight 123 assigned to 29,000 feet; climbing to it from 27,000. I am two minutes early."

I saw an advanced radar set, a huge green dish which can take the scannings from Newark Airport, LaGuardia and Idlewild and mix them on one plate. A traffic controller can see at a glance where traffic is heavy, where it is light, whether proper buffer zones are being maintained between airports, and he can redirect traffic so that the flow is smooth and unimpeded.

The earth began to shrink when the air age was born. Now the air ocean above us is beginning to shrink. In five years, planes carrying 200 passengers will be fighting for space at 80,000 feet and moving at 2,500 miles per hour without strain. It is the business of this experimental center to anticipate problems and solve them now.

I still don't believe that no-hands landing . . .

Orioles Defeat Yankees, 3-1, To Regain American League Lead

Steve Barber Gets 9th Win; Powell Homers

Birds' Five-Game Losing Spin Ends Before 37,137 Fans

BALTIMORE (AP) — Steve Barber's pitching and a two-run homer by Boog Powell carried Baltimore to a 3-1 victory over the New York Yankees Tuesday night that ended the Orioles' losing streak at five games and sent them into the American League lead.

Barber, the Orioles' ace left-hander, was successful in his third try for victory No. 9, but he needed relief help from Dick Hall with two out in the ninth.

After the Yanks moved two runners into scoring position on a single by Mickey Mantle, a walk to Roger Maris and an infield out, Hall came in and retired Elston Howard on a fly ball. That made Barber the winningest pitcher in the league.

Mantle also homered, leading off the second inning, for the Yankee run. After the second, Barber didn't allow a hit until the eighth. He struck out seven.

Boog Powell's two-run homer off loser Ralph Terry in the fifth, following a single by Brooks Robinson, put the Orioles ahead 2-1. The other run scored in the eighth on a triple by Luis Aparicio and a suicide squeeze bunt by Jerry Adair while reliever Steve Hamilton was on the mound.

The game was played before 37,137 fans, the largest home crowd of the season.

Cheney Blanks Red Sox, 1-0

Don Lock's Homer Beats Earl Wilson

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Don Lock's fourth home run in as many games and Tom Cheney's five-hitter enabled the Washington Senators to squeeze out a 1-0 victory Tuesday night over the Boston Red Sox.

Lock's line drive homer in the sixth inning broke up a scoreless pitching duel between Cheney and Boston's Earl Wilson. It was the fifth homer in the last seven contests for the hot-hitting Washington outfielder, who has batted .500 in his last 10 games.

Cheney snapped a personal six-game losing streak as he hurled the 10th place Senators to their third straight win. The Washington righthander struck out six and allowed only two Boston runners to reach third as he chalked up his third shutout of the year.

Washington mounted no serious threat off Wilson and Dick Radatz except for Lock's blow. The only serious threat against Cheney came in the third when Boston had runners on first and third with one out, but he got Roman Mejias on a pop out and struck out Carl Yastrzemski to end the inning.

Boston Patriots Sign Art Graham

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Patriots of the American Football League Tuesday signed Boston College end Art Graham, their top draft choice.

The signing, for an undisclosed amount, was announced following talks between the East's ranking pass catcher last fall and Patriot coach Mike Holovak, the man who originally recruited Graham to Boston College.

Holovak said Graham would join other Patriot rookies as a split end candidate when first practice call is issued at the Andover training camp on July 15.

Legal Technicality May Trip Racing Referendum

Petitions Filed Fail To Carry Statement On Contributions

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—An attempt to force a referendum on a bill providing more racing at Maryland tracks may have been tripped by a legal technicality.

Secretary of State Lloyd L. Simpkins advised the attorney general Tuesday that petitions filed against the bill May 31 failed to carry a statement on contributions and expenditures as required by law.

Simpkins asked for a legal opinion on what action he should take.

He said two local acts, relating to sheriffs in Cecil and St. Marys counties, also failed to comply with the referendum law as to reporting expenses.

The other 11 bills petitioned to referendum were all accompanied by expense reports.

All of the acts were delayed from taking effect June 1 by the petitions filed against them. The State Racing Commission had already made up summer and fall schedules based on the extra days provided in the race track consolidation bill.

Pimlico, Laurel, Bowie and Timonium gained 12 more days each Marlboro and Hagerstown half-mile tracks six more, and the state's remaining three harness tracks eight more days. Two harness tracks and a half-miler were closed in the consolidation move.

The petitions against the racing bill were filed by Sen. Paul A. Dorf, D-Balto 5th, as the first step toward putting the bill on referendum in the November, 1964, election.

The act was automatically suspended since the petitions carried 21,418 signatures. It needed only 11,540 by June 1 with the remainder to be raised in one month.

If Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan rules that the first petitions failed to comply with state law, it will not go to referendum unless ordered by the courts.

Simpkins said he expects an answer tomorrow.

Baltimore Quint Will Be Bullets

BALTIMORE (AP)—Paul Hoffman, named Monday as general manager of Baltimore's new entry in the National Basketball Association, has completed his first deal.

Hoffman traded the nickname of "Zephyrs," which the team brought with it from Chicago, from the more familiar "Bullets."

The name Bullets has been connected with the professional basketball in Baltimore since the 1940s. The last group to operate a team here registered the name and was entitled to its exclusive use, but the right was relinquished to the new NBA club.

Beckley Loses L.L. Tournament

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Little League officials said Tuesday they have definitely decided not to play the 1963 senior division world series in Beckley, W.Va., as originally planned.

Robert H. Stirrat, director of public relations for Little League, Inc., denied emphatically, however, that the reason for the decision was charges of racial discrimination in Beckley.

A new site for the world series, for players between 13 and 15 years old, is expected to be selected in the next week or so, he said.

Stirrat said that there was evidence of a feud between the Beckley Elks club, sponsors of Little League baseball in Beckley, and Beckley newspapers.

Braves Nip Mets In Final Inning

NEW YORK (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves capitalized on reliever Galen Cisco's wildness in a three-run uprising in the ninth inning and beat the New York Mets 3-2 Tuesday night.

Cisco replaced Carl Willey with two out in the top of the ninth and the bases filled, gave up a walk to Denis Menke that forced in the tying run and then hit pinch batter Mack Jones with a pitch, forcing in the clincher.

The Braves, shut out on two singles by ex-teammate Willey through eight innings, got things started in the ninth with a one-out single by Hank Aaron. He stole second and scored on Don Dillard's two-out single. After a single by Tommie Aaron and a walk to Joe Torre filled the bases, Cisco came on.

Cunningham Suffers Broken Collarbone

CHICAGO (AP) — Joe Cunningham, Chicago White Sox first baseman, will be in a hospital 10 days and out of the lineup from eight to 10 weeks as result of injury in Monday night's game in Los Angeles.

Cunningham suffered a broken collarbone when he tripped at first base in the fifth inning of Chicago's 4-0 triumph over the Angels.

Seven Players Are Involved In NHL Trade

Black Hawks Hire Reay As New Coach

MONTREAL (AP) — The New York Rangers and the Montreal Canadeins swapped goalies Tuesday in a major trade involving seven National Hockey League players.

The Rangers got three players in the deal and gave up four. They acquired goalie Jacques Plante, forward Don Marshall and center Phil Goyette.

In the exchange, the Canadiens picked up goalie Lorne (Gump) Worsley and left wingers Dave Balon, Len Ronson and Leon Rochefort.

The trade was negotiated at the annual NHL meeting which started here Monday.

Just prior to the swap Chicago officials said that Billy Reay, who coached Buffalo to the American Hockey League championships last season, would succeed Rudy Pilous as boss of the Black Hawks.

Pilous was fired on May 21, presumably because the Chicago team collapsed in the final weeks of the NHL season and did not win the Stanley Cup.

Plante, first goalie to adopt use of the face mask, has won the Vezina Trophy as the league's best goal keeper six times and has been the Canadiens' regular goalie since 1954. After brilliant play during the 1961-62 season, the 34-year-old star was erracitlast winter when he was plagued by injuries.

Gen. MacArthur Asks AAU, NCAA To Stand By Their Agreement

NEW YORK (UPI) — General Douglas MacArthur, who helped mediate differences between the AAU and NCAA last January, moved Tuesday to nip a new "war" between the two groups when he urged them to stand by their agreement.

The Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) announced on Monday that its 132 member colleges have, in effect, been told not to enter AAU sanctioned track meets, including the scheduled New York AC games this Saturday and the AAU National Championships in St. Louis later this month, unless sanction was obtained from the U. S. Track and Field Federation, a wing of the NCAA.

This immediately brought angry statements from AAU officials, who charged that the NCAA was upsetting the boat and going back on the agreement Gen. MacArthur hammered out between the two groups after many hours of deliberation.

Indians Rally For 6-4 Win Over Detroit

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Pinch hitter Mike De La Hoz slammed a two-run homer as the Cleveland Indians rallied for five runs in the seventh inning to defeat the Detroit Tigers, 6-4, Tuesday night.

De La Hoz connected against Hank Aguirre, the second Detroit pitcher, to tie the game at 4-4. Al Luplow then singled home the winning runs after a walk to Dick Howser and Vic Davilillo's double.

The Tigers took a 4-0 lead against Barry Latman early in the game, but Jerry Walker and Ted Abernathy blanked Detroit on one hit over the last four innings. Walker, the winner, boosted his record to 3-1, with all the victories coming in relief against Detroit.

Joe Adcock slammed a leadoff homer against Tiger starter Mickey Lolich in the fourth inning to start the Indians' comeback. Lolich was chased during the Cleveland seventh inning rally.

Aguirre was the loser, dropping his record to 4-5 for the season.

Birds' Five-Game Losing Spin Ends Before 37,137 Fans

BALTIMORE (AP) — Steve Barber's pitching and a two-run homer by Boog Powell carried Baltimore to a 3-1 victory over the New York Yankees Tuesday night that ended the Orioles' losing streak at five games and sent them into the American League lead.

Barber, the Orioles' ace left-hander, was successful in his third try for victory No. 9, but he needed relief help from Dick Hall with two out in the ninth.

After the Yanks moved two runners into scoring position on a single by Mickey Mantle, a walk to Roger Maris and an infield out, Hall came in and retired Elston Howard on a fly ball. That made Barber the winningest pitcher in the league.

Mantle also homered, leading off the second inning, for the Yankee run. After the second, Barber didn't allow a hit until the eighth. He struck out seven.

Boog Powell's two-run homer off loser Ralph Terry in the fifth, following a single by Brooks Robinson, put the Orioles ahead 2-1. The other run scored in the eighth on a triple by Luis Aparicio and a suicide squeeze bunt by Jerry Adair while reliever Steve Hamilton was on the mound.

The game was played before 37,137 fans, the largest home crowd of the season.

Cheney Blanks Red Sox, 1-0

Don Lock's Homer Beats Earl Wilson

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Don Lock's fourth home run in as many games and Tom Cheney's five-hitter enabled the Washington Senators to squeeze out a 1-0 victory Tuesday night over the Boston Red Sox.

Lock's line drive homer in the sixth inning broke up a scoreless pitching duel between Cheney and Boston's Earl Wilson. It was the fifth homer in the last seven contests for the hot-hitting Washington outfielder, who has batted .500 in his last 10 games.

Cheney snapped a personal six-game losing streak as he hurled the 10th place Senators to their third straight win. The Washington righthander struck out six and allowed only two Boston runners to reach third as he chalked up his third shutout of the year.

Washington mounted no serious threat off Wilson and Dick Radatz except for Lock's blow. The only serious threat against Cheney came in the third when Boston had runners on first and third with one out, but he got Roman Mejias on a pop out and struck out Carl Yastrzemski to end the inning.

Boston Patriots Sign Art Graham

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Patriots of the American Football League Tuesday signed Boston College end Art Graham, their top draft choice.

The signing, for an undisclosed amount, was announced following talks between the East's ranking pass catcher last fall and Patriot coach Mike Holovak, the man who originally recruited Graham to Boston College.

Holovak said Graham would join other Patriot rookies as a split end candidate when first practice call is issued at the Andover training camp on July 15.

Legal Technicality May Trip Racing Referendum

Petitions Filed Fail To Carry Statement On Contributions

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—An attempt to force a referendum on a bill providing more racing at Maryland tracks may have been tripped by a legal technicality.

Secretary of State Lloyd L. Simpkins advised the attorney general Tuesday that petitions filed against the bill May 31 failed to carry a statement on contributions and expenditures as required by law.

Simpkins asked for a legal opinion on what action he should take.

He said two local acts, relating to sheriffs in Cecil and St. Marys counties, also failed to comply with the referendum law as to reporting expenses.

The other 11 bills petitioned to referendum were all accompanied by expense reports.

All of the acts were delayed from taking effect June 1 by the petitions filed against them. The State Racing Commission had already made up summer and fall schedules based on the extra days provided in the race track consolidation bill.

Pimlico, Laurel, Bowie and Timonium gained 12 more days each, Marlboro and Hagerstown half-mile tracks six more, and the state's remaining three harness tracks eight more days. Two harness tracks and a half-miler were closed in the consolidation move.

The petitions against the racing bill were filed by Sen. Paul A. Dorf, D-Balto 5th, as the first step toward putting the bill on referendum in the November, 1964, election.

The act was automatically suspended since the petitions carried 21,418 signatures. It needed only 11,540 by June 1 with the remainder to be raised in one month.

If Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan rules that the first petitions failed to comply with state law, it will not go to referendum unless ordered by the courts.

Simpkins said he expects an answer tomorrow.

Baltimore Quint Will Be Bullets

BALTIMORE (AP)—Paul Hoffman, named Monday as general manager of Baltimore's new entry in the National Basketball Association, has completed his first deal.

Hoffman traded the nickname of "Zephyrs," which the team brought with it from Chicago, from the more familiar "Bullets."

The name Bullets has been connected with the professional basketball in Baltimore since the 1940s. The last group to operate a team here registered the name and was entitled to its exclusive use, but the right was relinquished to the new NBA club.

Beckley Loses L.L. Tournament

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Little League officials said Tuesday they have definitely decided not to play the 1963 senior division world series in Beckley, W.Va., as originally planned.

Robert H. Stirrat, director of public relations for Little League, Inc., denied emphatically, however, that the reason for the decision was charges of racial discrimination in Beckley.

A new site for the world series, for players between 13 and 15 years old, is expected to be selected in the next week or so, he said.

Stirrat said that there was evidence of a feud between the Beckley Elks club, sponsors of Little League baseball in Beckley, and Beckley newspapers.

Braves Nip Mets In Final Inning

NEW YORK (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves capitalized on reliever Galen Cisco's wildness in a three-run uprising in the ninth inning and beat the New York Mets 3-2 Tuesday night.

Cisco replaced Carl Willey with two out in the top of the ninth and the bases filled, gave up a walk to Denis Menke that forced in the tying run and then hit pinch batter Mack Jones with a pitch, forcing in the clincher.

The Braves, shut out on two singles by ex-teammate Willey through eight innings, got things started in the ninth with a one-out single by Hank Aaron. He stole second and scored on Don Dillard's two-out single. After a single by Tommie Aaron and a walk to Joe Torre filled the bases, Cisco came on.

Cunningham Suffers Broken Collarbone

CHICAGO (AP) — Joe Cunningham, Chicago White Sox first baseman, will be in a hospital 10 days and out of the lineup from eight to 10 weeks as result of injury in Monday night's game in Los Angeles.

Cunningham suffered a broken collarbone when he tripped at first base in the fifth inning of Chicago's 4-0 triumph over the Angels.

Black Hawks Hire Reay As New Coach

MONTREAL (AP) — The New York Rangers and the Montreal Canadeins swapped goalies Tuesday in a major trade involving seven National Hockey League players.

The Rangers got three players in the deal and gave up four. They acquired goalie Jacques Plante, forward Don Marshall and center Phil Goyette.

In the exchange, the Canadiens picked up goalie Lorne (Gump) Worsley and left wingers Dave Balon, Len Ronson and Leon Rochefort.

The trade was negotiated at the annual NHL meeting which started here Monday.

Just prior to the swap Chicago officials said that Billy Reay, who coached Buffalo to the American Hockey League championships last season, would succeed Rudy Pilous as boss of the Black Hawks.

Pilous was fired on May 21, presumably because the Chicago team collapsed in the final weeks of the NHL season and did not win the Stanley Cup.

Plante, first goalie to adopt use of the face mask, has won the Vezina Trophy as the league's best goal keeper six times and has been the Canadiens' regular goalie since 1954. After brilliant play during the 1961-62 season, the 34-year-old star was erracitlast winter when he was plagued by injuries.

Gen. MacArthur Asks AAU, NCAA To Stand By Their Agreement

NEW YORK (UPI) — General Douglas MacArthur, who helped mediate differences between the AAU and NCAA last January, moved Tuesday to nip a new "war" between the two groups when he urged them to stand by their agreement.

The Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) announced on Monday that its 132 member colleges have, in effect, been told not to enter AAU sanctioned track meets, including the scheduled New York AC games this Saturday and the AAU National Championships in St. Louis later this month, unless sanction was obtained from the U. S. Track and Field Federation, a wing of the NCAA.

This immediately brought angry statements from AAU officials, who charged that the NCAA was upsetting the boat and going back on the agreement Gen. MacArthur hammered out between the two groups after many hours of deliberation.

Indians Rally For 6-4 Win Over Detroit

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Pinch hitter Mike De La Hoz slammed a two-run homer as the Cleveland Indians rallied for five runs in the seventh inning to defeat the Detroit Tigers, 6-4, Tuesday night.

De La Hoz connected against Hank Aguirre, the second Detroit pitcher, to tie the game at 4-4. Al Luplow then singled home the winning runs after a walk to Dick Howser and Vic Davilillo's double.

The Tigers took a 4-0 lead against Barry Latman early in the game, but Jerry Walker and Ted Abernathy blanked Detroit on one hit over the last four innings. Walker, the winner, boosted his record to 3-1, with all the victories coming in relief against Detroit.

Joe Adcock slammed a leadoff homer against Tiger starter Mickey Lolich in the fourth inning to start the Indians' comeback. Lolich was chased during the Cleveland seventh inning rally.

Aguirre was the loser, dropping his record to 4-5 for the season.

Lonaconing Invades Frostburg, Hyndman Faces Barrelville

There's a "natural" in store for Pen-Mar Baseball League fans today at Municipal Baseball Field in South End where the front-running Mt. Savage Old Germans and the runner-up Cumberland Hermans clash at 6 p.m., in a battle for first place.

Mt. Savage, 1962 pennant and playoff winner, occupies first place with a 6-2 record while Manager Earl Drenning's Hermans are breathing down the backs of the leaders with five victories and two losses. The Hermans can wrest the lead from the Old Gees if they win today's contest.

Cumberland and Mt. Savage will be meeting for the second time. Manager Kenneth Johnson's team took the opening game on May 5 when Harold Mongold decisioned Wellington Donahue.

Both Won Three In Row

Both teams put three-game winning streaks on the line. The Hermans have beaten Hyndman 12-6, Lonaconing 1-0 and Frostburg 3-2 in their last three outings while Mt. Savage has downed Frostburg 13-8, Hyndman 8-2 and Barrelville 8-7, in ten innings.

Lefty Wayne Johnson (5-1) or Mongold (1-1) is expected to work on the firing line for Mt. Savage while Ed Parsons (2-0) or John Price (2-0) will twirl for the Hermans.

Lonaconing At Frostburg

Frostburg's Merchants and Lonaconing, tied for third place with 5-3 records, one game off the pace, clash today in the Mountain City.

Lonaconing has lost two in a row and will be striving to square its series with the Merchants who took the opening game on May 5 by the score of 8-1.

Last place Barrelville (1-7) will test Hyndman (1-6) in the third Wednesday game which will be staged at Barrelville. The Old Exports of Manager "Buck" Fiorita will be trying to break a 6-game losing streak. Hyndman snapped a 6-game losing skein by downing Lonaconing last Sunday.

Barrelville and Hyndman, winners of eight pennants and seven playoff titles in the past 14 years, met on May 5 and the Old Exports posted their only victory (8-3) recorded to date.

Cubs Down Giants, 6-1, Hand O'Dell First Loss

Bob Buhl Fires Five-Hitter For Hot Chicago Club

CHICAGO (UPI) —San Francisco Giant pitching ace Billy O'Dell lost his first game of the season Tuesday, bowing 6 to 1 to a five hitter by Bob Buhl of the Chicago Cubs.

Ron Santo's three singles and stellar defensive work backed up Buhl's mound work.

O'Dell had run up an 8-0 record before Tuesday's game with his longest personal winning streak and the longest string in the majors so far this year.

But the Cubs solved his offerings quickly, clubbing four singles in the first frame and totaling nine singles before he was lifted for reliever Jim Duffalo in the sixth.

Duffalo took over with two out and runners on first and second base, and Ernie Banks doubled for the Cubs' only extra base hit to score Billy Williams. It was Williams' third run of the game.

It was the eighth win in the last 10 games for the charging Cubs and the fifth loss in the last eight for the league - leading Giants. The decision left the Cubs, who at this time a year ago were in nine place, only three games behind the pace-setters.

Buhl set the Giants down in order in three innings and allowed hits in only the third, fourth, eighth and ninth. Willie Mays got the Giants' run in the fourth with a single, a walk, a wild pitch and a sacrifice fly.

Buhl walked four and struck out five en route to his fifth win against four losses, and had expert aid from Santo who went to his left three times on sharp grounders to throw the batter out.

A pair of errors by Orlando Cepeda, each time on a ball hit by Ken Hubbs, helped the Cubs to two unearned runs in the first two innings. In the first, Williams, Santo and Banks singled into order for two runs, and in the second Williams walked and Santo singled with Hubbs scoring in each frame.

Don Fleming, Of NFL Browns, Electrocuted

Gridder Dies At Construction Site

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) —Safety man Don Fleming of the Cleveland Browns was electrocuted Tuesday when a cable brushed against a 12,000 volt power line at a construction site where he was working to stay in shape between seasons.

Fleming, the Browns' regular safety man since 1960, and another worker were killed while standing at each end of a 16-foot cast iron pipe, helping guide it as it was lifted from a truck.

Fleming's death was the second in recent weeks among professional football players.

Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb, the Pittsburgh Steelers' giant tackle, died May 10 from an overdose of heroin taken in the apartment of a friend in Baltimore where he once starred with the Colts.

The Third Tragedy

It was the third tragedy to strike the Browns in recent months.

Tom Bloom, a draftee from Purdue, was killed in an automobile accident during the winter. Halfback Ernie Davis, the Syracuse All-America and Heisman Trophy winner, died 17 days ago of leukemia. Davis had signed a contract last summer but missed last season.

The Browns had announced Tuesday that Fleming and Bernie Parrish, onetime University of Florida teammates, had signed their 1963 contracts.

Fleming, who had studied building construction while in college, knew the owner of the construction firm and had taken the job to stay in shape during the off season.

Sgt. Jack Bachman of the Orange County (Fla.) Sheriff's Office said Fleming, who would have been 26 a week from Tuesday, and Walter Smith, 38, of Sanford, Fla., were standing on the pipe as a crane lifted the pipe from the truck.

The crane cable brushed against the power line, sending the 12,000 volt charge through their finger tips and across their chests.

Dead At Hospital

They were rushed to Orange Memorial Hospital where attempts to revive them, including open chest heart massage, failed.

Fleming, born in Bellaire, Ohio, made his home at Winter Park, Fla. He is survived by his widow, the former Rosalie Krasevec of Wheeling, W. Va., and a son, Ty Michale, 1.

He was a 28th round draft choice by the Chicago Cardinals while still in college but was traded to the Browns for a draft choice. He reported to the Browns for the 1960 season and won the regular safety man job.

Fleming, who had great speed, intercepted five passes and returned them 85 yards in 1960. He intercepted three in 1961 and two last year when he was sidelined with an ankle injury part of the season.

He was a member of the National Football League All - Star team last year.

Three ACL Games Postponed, Reset For Tomorrow

The Allegany County Baseball League lost another battle to the weatherman yesterday, all three scheduled games being postponed because of wet grounds. The entire slate has been reset for tomorrow.

Hermans Test Mt. Savage, Pen-Mar Leaders, In Game Here Today

Locals Given Opportunity To Cop Top Berth

Lonaconing Invades Frostburg, Hyndman Faces Barrelville

There's a "natural" in store for Pen-Mar Baseball League fans today at Municipal Baseball Field in South End where the front-running Mt. Savage Old Germans and the runner-up Cumberland Hermans clash at 6 p.m., in a battle for first place.

Mt. Savage, 1962 pennant and playoff winner, occupies first place with a 6-2 record while Manager Earl Drenning's Hermans are breathing down the backs of the leaders with five victories and two losses. The Hermans can wrest the lead from the Old Gees if they win today's contest.

Cumberland and Mt. Savage will be meeting for the second time. Manager Kenneth Johnson's team took the opening game on May 5 when Harold Mongold decisioned Wellington Donahue.

Both Won Three In Row

Both teams put three-game winning streaks on the line. The Hermans have beaten Hyndman 12-6, Lonaconing 1-0 and Frostburg 3-2 in their last three outings while Mt. Savage has downed Frostburg 13-8, Hyndman 8-2 and Barrelville 8-7, in ten innings.

Lefty Wayne Johnson (5-1) or Mongold (1-1) is expected to work on the firing line for Mt. Savage while Ed Parsons (2-0) or John Price (2-0) will twirl for the Hermans.

Lonaconing At Frostburg

Frostburg's Merchants and Lonaconing, tied for third place with 5-3 records, one game off the pace, clash today in the Mountain City.

Lonaconing has lost two in a row and will be striving to square its series with the Merchants who took the opening game on May 5 by the score of 8-1.

Last place Barrelville (1-7) will test Hyndman (1-6) in the third Wednesday game which will be staged at Barrelville. The Old Exports of Manager "Buck" Fiorita will be trying to break a 6-game losing streak. Hyndman snapped a 6-game losing skein by downing Lonaconing last Sunday.

Barrelville and Hyndman, winners of eight pennants and seven playoff titles in the past 14 years, met on May 5 and the Old Exports posted their only victory (8-3) recorded to date.

Cubs Down Giants, 6-1, Hand O'Dell First Loss

Bob Buhl Fires Five-Hitter For Hot Chicago Club

CHICAGO (UPI) —San Francisco Giant pitching ace Billy O'Dell lost his first game of the season Tuesday, bowing 6 to 1 to a five hitter by Bob Buhl of the Chicago Cubs.

Ron Santo's three singles and stellar defensive work backed up Buhl's mound work.

O'Dell had run up an 8-0 record before Tuesday's game with his longest personal winning streak and the longest string in the majors so far this year.

But the Cubs solved his offerings quickly, clubbing four singles in the first frame and totaling nine singles before he was lifted for reliever Jim Duffalo in the sixth.

Duffalo took over with two out and runners on first and second base, and Ernie Banks doubled for the Cubs' only extra base hit to score Billy Williams. It was Williams' third run of the game.

It was the eighth win in the last 10 games for the charging Cubs and the fifth loss in the last eight for the league-leading Giants. The decision left the Cubs, who at this time a year ago were in nine place, only three games behind the pace-setters.

Buhl set the Giants down in order in three innings and allowed hits in only the third, fourth, eighth and ninth. Willie Mays got the Giants' run in the fourth with a single, a walk, a wild pitch and a sacrifice fly.

Buhl walked four and struck out five en route to his fifth win against four losses, and had expert aid from Santo who went to his left three times on sharp grounders to throw the batter out.

A pair of errors by Orlando Cepeda, each time on a ball hit by Ken Hubbs, helped the Cubs to two unearned runs in the first two innings. In the first, Williams, Santo and Banks singled into order for two runs, and in the second Williams walked and Santo singled with Hubbs scoring in each frame.

Don Fleming, Of NFL Browns, Electrocuted

Gridder Dies At Construction Site

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) —Safety man Don Fleming of the Cleveland Browns was electrocuted Tuesday when a cable brushed against a 12,000 volt power line at a construction site where he was working to stay in shape between seasons.

Fleming, the Browns' regular safety man since 1960, and another worker were killed while standing at each end of a 16-foot cast iron pipe, helping guide it as it was lifted from a truck.

Fleming's death was the second in recent weeks among professional football players.

Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb, the Pittsburgh Steelers' giant tackle, died May 10 from an overdose of heroin taken in the apartment of a friend in Baltimore where he once starred with the Colts.

The Third Tragedy

It was the third tragedy to strike the Browns in recent months.

Tom Bloom, a draftee from Purdue, was killed in an automobile accident during the winter. Halfback Ernie Davis, the Syracuse All-America and Heisman Trophy winner, died 17 days ago of leukemia. Davis had signed a contract last summer but missed last season.

The Browns had announced Tuesday that Fleming and Bernie Parrish, onetime University of Florida teammates, had signed their 1963 contracts.

Fleming, who had studied building construction while in college, knew the owner of the construction firm and had taken the job to stay in shape during the off season.

Sgt. Jack Bachman of the Orange County (Fla.) Sheriff's Office said Fleming, who would have been 26 a week from Tuesday, and Walter Smith, 38, of Sanford, Fla., were standing on the pipe as a crane lifted the pipe from the truck.

The crane cable brushed against the power line, sending the 12,000 volt charge through their finger tips and across their chests.

Dead At Hospital

They were rushed to Orange Memorial Hospital where attempts to revive them, including open chest heart massage, failed.

Fleming, born in Bellaire, Ohio, made his home at Winter Park, Fla. He is survived by his widow, the former Rosalie Krasevec of Wheeling, W. Va., and a son, Ty Michale, 1.

He was a 28th round draft choice by the Chicago Cardinals while still in college but was traded to the Browns for a draft choice. He reported to the Browns for the 1960 season and won the regular safety man job.

Fleming, who had great speed, intercepted five passes and returned them 85 yards in 1960. He intercepted three in 1961 and two last year when he was sidelined with an ankle injury part of the season.

He was a member of the National Football League All-Star team last year.

Doug Sanders is Seventh ($18,300), Bill Casper Jr. is eighth ($17,141), Dan Sikes Jr. is ninth ($16,979) and Bruce Crampton is tenth ($16,287).

Three ACL Games Postponed, Reset For Tomorrow

The Allegany County Baseball League lost another battle to the weatherman yesterday, all three scheduled games being postponed because of wet grounds. The entire slate has been reset for tomorrow.

What was to have been yesterday's feature attraction between Allegany and Fort Hill, on the latter team's diamond, will be played tomorrow at 4 p.m. The city championship hinges on the outcome, with Fort Hill showing a 2-1 record in intra-city competition and Allegany with a 1-2 mark. LaSalle is 2-2.

Mt. Savage will play Beall at Frostburg tomorrow at 4 p.m., and Bruce and Valley will clash at Lonaconing, beginning at 3:30.

One ACL contest is carded for today. Valley and LaSalle will replay their tie game of April 23 at Stitcher Field at 4 p.m. The first contest ended in a 10-10 tie when darkness halted the proceedings after seven innings. The game will be replayed in its entirety.

Beckley High Wins In 19th

Tops Frankford, 2-1, Earns State Berth

FRANKFORD, W. Va. (UPI) — Beckley had to go 19 innings Tuesday before downing Frankford 2-1 for the right to represent Region 5 in the West Virginia High School baseball tournament.

The tourney opens in Parkersburg Thursday afternoon, with Beckley slated to meet Region 3 winner Fairview in the third game of the opening round.

John Hedrick, who pitched to only three batters in the 19th inning after relieving Allen Mahoney, was credited with the win. Randy Hinkle went all the way for the losers.

The game was scoreless going into the top of the 19th when Frankford put its lone tally across on two hits.

The Frankford scoring broke the ice for Beckley. The winners came up in their half of the 19th when Fred Lewis and Ricky Wyont smashed back-to-back singles. Bob Stewart then doubled both teammates home to win the game.

Game Rained Out

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The game between the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Cincinnati Reds scheduled for Tuesday night was postponed because of rain and wet grounds. The game was rescheduled as part of a twi-night doubleheader Thursday.

Clyde Nazelrod topped X-pert B Class with a 322, and Bernard Wenrick came through with a 225 to win Bowman Class.

Janet Stevens shot a 291 score to top the women shooters with Wilma Jamison winning X-B with a 180 and Lois Sluss topping Bowman with a 194.

In the Junior Division Roger DeMoss placed high with a 159 while Bob Webster, Jr., took Archer Class with a 58.

Twenty-pin awards were earned by Gene DeHaven, Lee Stevens, Carl Nazelrod and Junior Halterman.

Proceeds from the local club's charity shoot held last month were given to the Allegany County League for Crippled Children.

Podbielan's Nephew Signed By Yankees

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Joe Podbielan, 17-year-old nephew of former major league pitcher Clarence (Bud) Podbielan, was signed to a major league contract by the New York Yankees.

Crimson Satan Favored To Win Handicap Race

Ten Start Today In $50,000 Test

BOSTON (AP) — Crimson King Farm's Crimson Satan, a 4-year-old son of Spy Song with a bank account of $607,431, appears to be a solid favorite in Wednesday's 29th running of the $50,000-added Massachusetts Handicap.

A baker's dozen of the top handicap stars in the East were named as definite starters in the 1¼-mile event that is undoubtedly the finest renewal in the history of this nationally famous stake.

Crimson Satan will carry 124 pounds, including Herb Hinojosa. Fred Hooper's Admiral's Voyage will tote top weight of 125. He will be ridden by Braulio Baeza, winner of the Kentucky Derby astride Chateaugay.

Others named through the entry box Tuesday morning were: T. B. Martin's Sunrise County 120, with John Rotz aboard; George D. Widener's Endymion 111, Larry Adams; Mrs. Bobby Dotter's Guadalcanal 112, Jack Yothera; Christiana Stable's Smart 112, John Sellers; Little M Farm's Sunrise Flight 111, Mike Sorrentino; Gustave Smith's Wise Flushing 108, George Glassner; Gustave Ring's Hades 106, Con Errico.

Mrs. Quincy Adams Shaw McKean has named the entry of Polylad 112, Leroy Moyers, and Tootsie's Pride 110, Bill Skuse.

Peter Fuller also named a tandem, Half Breed 110 and Pan Dancer 113.

The gross value of this year's renewal is $60,300. The winner's share, if all 13 go postward will be $39,195.

Five of the 13 entries recently contested the $100,000 Metropolitan Mile at Aqueduct. Sunrise County, Crimson Satan and Smart finished third, fourth and fifth, just a half length apart.

Guadalcanal and Admiral's Voyage, the latter favorite in the Met, were out of the payoffs with Admiral's Voyage being caught in close quarters.

Crimson Satan rates the favorite role off his Metropolitan performance, in which he finished a creditable third despite a poor start.

Pastrano Named Boxer Of Month

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UPI) — Willie Pastrano, who scored a major upset when he took away the light heavyweight crown from Harold Johnson last Saturday, Tuesday was named "Boxer of the Month" by the World Boxing Association which also released its monthly ring ratings.

Only two others — Eder Jofre and Rubin (Hurricane) Carter — were considered for the monthly honor. Jofre successfully defended his bantamweight title against Johnny Jamito and Carter defeated George Benton in a middleweight elimination bout.

The only significant change in this month's ratings saw former heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson dropped out of the top 10. He announced his retirement from the ring.

Harris, Patton Bow In British Golf Tourney

16 Americans Lose In Amateur Matches

By HENRY W. THORNBERRY
UPI Sports Writer

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (UPI) Sixteen Americans were blasted out of the British Amateur Golf Championship Tuesday including U. S. champion Labron Harris of Stillwater, Okla., and two of his Walker Cup teammates.

The series of disasters in first and second round matches trimmed the American contingent to 14 survivors led by defending champion Dick Davies of Pebble Beach, Calif., who powered his way into the third round with a 4 and 3 victory over Peter Davidson of England. Twelve Yanks won Tuesday and two were idle.

Walker Cuppers Charlie Smith of Gastonia, N. C., Dick Sikes of Springdale, Ark., and Dr. Edgar Updegraff of Tucson, Ariz., advanced with Davies but veterans Bob Gardner of Essex Falls, N. J., and Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N. C., went to the sidelines with Harris.

Harris, 21-year-old son of a pro, bogeyed the first six holes of a second round match against 27-year-old Lionel Smith of England, a technical representative for a German chemical firm who normally golfs only on Sundays, and fell so far behind he couldn't catch up. Smith rode his early lead to a 2 and 1 victory despite putting jitters on the 15th and 16th greens.

Gardner and Patton both were beaten in the first round, along with eight other Americans. Dick Smith, 45-year-old Scottish tweed manufacturer, bumped Gardner 2 and 1 and Jim Pirie, 25-year-old dairy farmer from Scotland, won by one hole from Patton who missed a four-footer on the 18th green.

Beckley High Wins In 19th

Tops Frankford, 2-1, Earns State Berth

FRANKFORD, W. Va. (UPI) — Beckley had to go 19 innings Tuesday before downing Frankford 2-1 for the right to represent Region 5 in the West Virginia High School baseball tournament.

The tourney opens in Parkersburg Thursday afternoon, with Beckley slated to meet Region 3 winner Fairview in the third game of the opening round.

John Hedrick, who pitched to only three batters in the 19th inning after relieving Allen Mahoney, was credited with the win. Randy Hinkle went all the way for the losers.

The game was scoreless going into the top of the 19th when Frankford put its lone tally across on two hits.

The Frankford scoring broke the ice for Beckley. The winners came up in their half of the 19th when Fred Lewis and Ricky Wyont smashed back-to-back singles. Bob Stewart then doubled both teammates home to win the game.

Game Rained Out

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The game between the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Cincinnati Reds scheduled for Tuesday night was postponed because of rain and wet grounds. The game was rescheduled as part of a twi-night doubleheader Thursday.

Crimson Satan Favored To Win Handicap Race

Ten Start Today In $50,000 Test

BOSTON (AP) — Crimson King Farm's Crimson Satan, a 4-year-old son of Spy Song with a bank account of $607,431, appears to be a solid favorite in Wednesday's 29th running of the $50,000-added Massachusetts Handicap.

A baker's dozen of the top handicap stars in the East were named as definite starters in the 1¼-mile event that is undoubtedly the finest renewal in the history of this nationally famous stake.

Crimson Satan will carry 124 pounds, including Herb Hinojosa. Fred Hooper's Admiral's Voyage will tote top weight of 125. He will be ridden by Braulio Baeza, winner of the Kentucky Derby astride Chateaugay.

Others named through the entry box Tuesday morning were: T. B. Martin's Sunrise County 120, with John Rotz aboard; George D. Widener's Endymion 111, Larry Adams; Mrs. Bobby Dotter's Guadalcanal 112, Jack Yothera; Christiana Stable's Smart 112, John Sellers; Little M Farm's Sunrise Flight 111, Mike Sorrentino; Gustave Smith's Wise Flushing 108, George Glassner; Gustave Ring's Hades 106, Con Errico.

Mrs. Quincy Adams Shaw McKean has named the entry of Polylad 112, Leroy Moyers, and Tootsie's Pride 110, Bill Skuse.

Peter Fuller also named a tandem, Half Breed 110 and Pan Dancer 113.

The gross value of this year's renewal is $60,300. The winner's share, if all 13 go postward will be $39,195.

Five of the 13 entries recently contested the $100,000 Metropolitan Mile at Aqueduct. Sunrise County, Crimson Satan and Smart finished third, fourth and fifth, just a half length apart.

Guadalcanal and Admiral's Voyage, the latter favorite in the Met, were out of the payoffs with Admiral's Voyage being caught in close quarters.

Pastrano Named Boxer Of Month

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UPI) — Willie Pastrano, who scored a major upset when he took away the light heavyweight crown from Harold Johnson last Saturday, Tuesday was named "Boxer of the Month" by the World Boxing Association which also released its monthly ring ratings.

Only two others — Eder Jofre and Rubin (Hurricane) Carter — were considered for the monthly honor. Jofre successfully defended his bantamweight title against Johnny Jamito and Carter defeated George Benton in a middleweight elimination bout.

The only significant change in this month's ratings saw former heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson dropped out of the top 10. He announced his retirement from the ring.

Harris, Patton Bow In British Golf Tourney

16 Americans Lose In Amateur Matches

By HENRY W. THORNBERRY
UPI Sports Writer

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (UPI) Sixteen Americans were blasted out of the British Amateur Golf Championship Tuesday including U. S. champion Labron Harris of Stillwater, Okla., and two of his Walker Cup teammates.

The series of disasters in first and second round matches trimmed the American contingent to 14 survivors led by defending champion Dick Davies of Pebble Beach, Calif., who powered his way into the third round with a 4 and 3 victory over Peter Davidson of England. Twelve Yanks won Tuesday and two were idle.

Walker Cuppers Charlie Smith of Gastonia, N. C., Dick Sikes of Springdale, Ark., and Dr. Edgar Updegraff of Tucson, Ariz., advanced with Davies but veterans Bob Gardner of Essex Falls, N. J., and Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N. C., went to the sidelines with Harris.

Harris, 21-year-old son of a pro, bogeyed the first six holes of a second round match against 27-year-old Lionel Smith of England, a technical representative for a German chemical firm who normally golfs only on Sundays, and fell so far behind he couldn't catch up. Smith rode his early lead to a 2 and 1 victory despite putting jitters on the 15th and 16th greens.

Gardner and Patton both were beaten in the first round, along with eight other Americans, Dick Smith, 45-year-old Scottish tweed manufacturer, bumped Gardner 2 and 1 and Jim Pirie, 25-year-old dairy farmer from Scotland, won by one hole from Patton who missed a four-footer on the 18th green.

Stocks Close Irregular; Trading Heaviest Of Year

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks finished mixed after rushing through a series of backing and filling maneuvers in the heaviest trading since Dec. 5, 1962.

Dow Jones industrials scored a modest advance of 0.22 to 726.44, the rails slipped 0.22 and utilities eased 0.19. Standard & Poor's more comprehensive 500 stockindex showed a nominal gain of 0.01 to 70.70.

Trading soared to 5,970,000 shares from 5,400,000 on Monday.

Of the 1,343 issues traded, 510 advanced, 93 to new 1963 highs, and 571 declined, 20 to new lows.

Brokers were divided between optimism and caution with most expressing confidence that the market will continue on to new highs although emphasizing that periods of correction and profit-taking are to be expected.

American Motors topped the market in activity rising 1 to 20¾ on a turnover of 158,000 shares. It was followed in activity by Sperry Rand up ½ to 14½, Chrysler up 1½ to a new 1963 high of 67, Ford up ⅛ to 52¾ and Westinghouse up 1⅛ to 38½.

Youngstown was the only gainer in a soft steel group and Eastman Kodak turned in a similar performance in a weak chemical section.

News of a fresh sugar price cut hurt some sugar shares. Holly lost 1⅛, and National Sugar slipped ⅜. South Puerto Rico ran counter to the easier trend, gaining 1 and Great Western bounced back from an earlier loss to tack on a small fraction.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) Soybeans traded heavy and led most other grain futures downward Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the final bell, wheat was unchanged to off ¼; corn off ⅛ to ⅜; oats unchanged to off ½; rye off ⅜ to 1⅜, and soybeans off 1 to 2.

Lower prices reflected favorable growing conditions, good crop reports and inactive export business.

Profit-taking weakened soybeans, meal and oil following yesterday's advance. Disappointment over the weekly export inspection figures was an influence.

Wheat declined slightly on hedge selling despite a halt in harvest and movement to market in the southwest due to rain. Interest in the bread grain was light.

Most corn futures held barely steady on greatly reduced Commodity Credit Corp. Sales. March corn was weak.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

Stocks Close Irregular; Trading Heaviest Of Year

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks finished mixed after rushing through a series of backing and filling maneuvers in the heaviest trading since Dec. 5, 1962.

Dow Jones industrials scored a modest advance of 0.22 to 726.44, the rails slipped 0.22 and utilities eased 0.19. Standard & Poor's more comprehensive 500 stockindex showed a nominal gain of 0.01 to 70.70.

Trading soared to 5,970,000 shares from 5,400,000 on Monday.

Of the 1,343 issues traded, 510 advanced, 93 to new 1963 highs, and 571 declined, 20 to new lows.

Brokers were divided between optimism and caution with most expressing confidence that the market will continue on to new highs although emphasizing that periods of correction and profit-taking are to be expected.

American Motors topped the market in activity rising 1 to 20¾ on a turnover of 158,000 shares. It was followed in activity by Sperry Rand up ½ to 14½, Chrysler up 1½ to a new 1963 high of 67, Ford up ⅛ to 52¾ and Westinghouse up 1⅛ to 38½.

Youngstown was the only gainer in a soft steel group and Eastman Kodak turned in a similar performance in a weak chemical section.

News of a fresh sugar price cut hurt some sugar shares. Holly lost 1⅛, and National Sugar slipped ⅜. South Puerto Rico ran counter to the easier trend, gaining 1 and Great Western bounced back from an earlier loss to tack on a small fraction.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) Soybeans traded heavy and led most other grain futures downward Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the final bell, wheat was unchanged to off ¼; corn off ⅛ to ⅜; oats unchanged to off ½; rye off ⅜ to 1⅜, and soybeans off 1 to 2.

Lower prices reflected favorable growing conditions, good crop reports and inactive export business.

Profit-taking weakened soybeans, meal and oil following yesterday's advance. Disappointment over the weekly export inspection figures was an influence.

Wheat declined slightly on hedge selling despite a halt in harvest and movement to market in the southwest due to rain. Interest in the bread grain was light.

Most corn futures held barely steady on greatly reduced Commodity Credit Corp. Sales. March corn was weak.

Oats eased on selling by locals and buying by commercial houses. Rye was down more than a cent after a steady start.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R

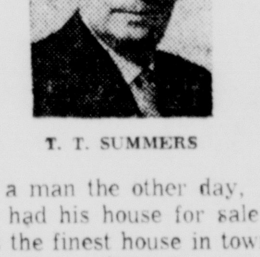
Realty Ramblings . . .



T. T. SUMMERS

I met a man the other day,
who had his house for sale.
It was the finest house in town,
according to his tale,

I valued it, at his request, then
expressed what it might bring.
Near twenty-five I figured,
and that sent him in a fling.

"Not one dime less than forty;
and a give away at that."
Before he'd sell for twenty-five he'd raze it, slat by slat.

Well, months went by and then, again, I chanced upon this man.
Humbly now he told me how he'd struggled with his plan.

Three different brokers all had tried this forty thou to get,
He'd shown and shown and shown
the place, but there was no
buyer yet.

His price went down to thirty-five, and then to thirty-two;
At thirty he began to think that twenty-eight might do.

By now he'd started to admit,
The high inflated price he'd sought had left him sad bereft.

So, I broke up my appraisal,
then explained it line by line;
and, to his credit, he agreed
'twas honest, fair and fine.

Four years, by now, he'd owned
the place, which cost him
sixteen three,
So a deal was closed at twenty-five, through a REALTOR —
that's right — ME.

Realty Ramblings . . .

T. T. SUMMERS

I met a man the other day,
who had his house for sale.
It was the finest house in town,
according to his tale,

I valued it, at his request, then expressed what it might bring.
Near twenty-five I figured,
and that sent him in a fling.

"Not one dime less than forty;
and a give away at that."
Before he'd sell for twenty-five he'd raze it, slat by slat.

Well, months went by and then,
again, I chanced upon this man.
Humbly now he told me how he'd struggled with his plan.

Three different brokers all had tried this forty thou to get,
the place, but there was no
buyer yet.

His price went down to thirty-five, and then to thirty-two;
At thirty he began to think that twenty-eight might do.

By now he'd started to admit,
The high inflated price he'd
sought had left him sad bereft.

So, I broke up my appraisal,
then explained it line by line;
and, to his credit, he agreed
'twas honest, fair and fine.

Four years, by now, he'd owned
the place, which cost him
sixteen three,
So a deal was closed at twenty-five, through a REALTOR —
that's right — ME.

LaVale Voters Give Approval To Fire Tax

57 Per Cent Back Proposal

Voters in the area served by the LaVale Volunteer Fire Department yesterday gave their endorsement to a fire tax not to exceed 10 cents on each $100 of assessable property in a special referendum at the Lavale Fire Hall.

Matthew J. Mullaney, president of the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors, received a call 23 minutes after the polls closed informing him of the following complete but unofficial result:

For Fire Tax	699
Against Fire Tax	524

The total vote of 1223 was slightly more than 42 per cent of the 2878 eligible to ballot in the special referendum. Some 57 per cent of the 1223 voting were in favor of the new tax. It primarily involves a large chunk of Election District 29 but also includes small portions of Districts 5 and 6 which get their fire protection from LaVale.

Complete Reversal

Yesterday's result was a complete reversal from four years ago. At the referendum of August 20, 1959, 69.5 per cent of those voting opposed the fire tax. There were 633 opposition votes then and only 276 in support of the tax.

It will be almost a year before the property owners in LaVale see the concrete results of their action yesterday. The new tax will be levied for the first time by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners next April 7. Traditionally, the tax bills are mailed out just before June 1 so the taxpayers have a full month to take advantage of the five per cent discount for prompt payment.

Yesterday's referendum was authorized by House Bill 991, which was introduced last winter in the House of Delegates by four of the six delegates from this county. Delegates Fred H. Anderson, J. Glenn Beall Jr., Noel Speir Cook and David J. Williams sponsored the bill. Delegates Lester B. Reed and Charles M. See did not.

Replaces Canvass

The fire tax approved yesterday will replace the house-to-house canvass conducted by the volunteer firemen each year in LaVale. They will continue to sponsor a festival, auctions and use of the fire hall for dinners to bring in revenue for the department.

At least 30 days before the next tax levying period on April 7, the county commissioners shall certify to the LaVale Volunteer Fire Department the whole valuation of the assessable real property within the area. The department shall then determine the amount necessary to be raised for the ensuing year to maintain and operate the fire department including payment of any existing encumbrances, the purchase, repair, replacement, operation and maintenance of fire-fighting equipment and apparatus, housing of the same and training of firemen.

The firemen also shall deduct from the expenses, all funds received from other sources as donations and as income from the company's activities and any balance in unexpended funds from previous levies.

Two Are Hurt In Garrett Co. Accident

A 79-year-old Mountain Lake Park man was hospitalized yesterday afternoon with injuries sustained in a two-car collision at the intersection of Maryland Route 135 and Route 826A in Garrett County.

Timothy J. Moon, a passenger in the right front of one of the cars, sustained fractured ribs on his right side and was reported in "satisfactory" condition last night in Garrett County Memorial Hospital in Oakland.

X-rays were taken yesterday and additional ones will be taken today, attaches said.

Sylvia Moffett, 69, also of Mountain Lake Park, was treated and released from the hospital. She sustained a laceration of her forehead in the accident at 2:50 p. m.

She was a passenger in the right rear of a car being driven by Orena Bell Moon, 78, of Mountain Lake Park, on Route 826A. Mr. Moon was in the right front seat of the car.

Police said the Moon car had stopped at a stop sign and then pulled out into the path of a car being driven west on Route 135 by Melvin R. Beckman, 27, of RD 2, Swanton, who apparently was uninjured.

Cpl. R. D. Henline indicated that Mrs. Moon will be charged with failure to yield the right of way.

Light System Election Set In Ellerslie

Registration Ends Tomorrow

Citizens of Ellerslie will go to the polls next Tuesday to vote on a proposal for establishing a street lighting system for the community.

Members of the Citizens Committee of Ellerslie are urging all affected citizens to "get out and vote, whether you are for or against the plan," according to Charles E. Simpkins, chairman.

The special referendum will be held Tuesday, June 11, from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. under the supervision of the Board of Election Supervisors.'

About 300 members of the community are eligible to take part in the special election.

Bill Is Signed

The plan for setting up the lighting system is contained in Senate Bill 297, introduced by Sen. George R. Hughes Jr. and signed into law by Governor Tawes on April 30.

Residents living in the area to be served by the proposed street lights still have today and tomorrow in which to register for voting with the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors in the Court House basement. The hours are 9 a.m. until 4 p.m.

Eligible to vote in the referendum are all registered voters who live within the boundaries of Ellerslie, and any person of voting age in the community may register if he has been a resident of Maryland for one year and of the community for six months.

Under the act, the maximum rate what can be assessed to finance the light system is 15 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation, the committee said, and funds collected from the special tax by the County Commissioners can be used only the payment of the costs of the system.

The law also provides that funds turned over to the Citizens Committee of Ellerslie may be used to pay the power company which furnishes the system and that any remaining funds must be carried over and applied to the next year's bill.

Committee Named

The law requires that the treasurer be bonded and that books be audited each year by the county auditor.

For continuity of the committee, the law provides that two members be elected each year, by balloting held the first Monday in March.

Mr. Simpkins said the number of lights in the system will be determined by the committee, guided completely by the needs for lights in the community.

The need for a street lighting system, he said, is great since the system now used is gratis and obsolete, and unless the new program is voted on favorably, the community stands to lose the few lights it now has, since the utility is justified in discontinuing those presently in existence.

The committee said it hopes the new system will not cost taxpayers the maximum but can be held to a level of 10 cents on each $100 of assessable property.

Clement Street Sewer Line Laid

City Sewer Department crews on Monday completed the Clement Street sewer project, according to Mrs. Lucile Roeder, commissioner of streets and public property.

The project included the laying of 208 feet of eight-inch sewer line from Virginia Avenue east on Clement Street.

Central YMCA Club Elects Officers

Shelia Cromwell has been elected president of the Adventurers Club of Central YMCA.

Other officers include Terry Easton, vice president; Mary Freeland, secretary, and Mike Moress, treasurer.

Club members are eligible for trips at a reduced rate and members decide where the club will visit. The club meets the first Friday of every month at 4:30 p. m. at the YMCA.

Peach Crop Wiped Out In County

Heavy Frost Causes Damage

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Winter weather almost wiped out the peach crop in Allegany County.

The Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service said Tuesday that the Allegany County peach crop is virtually a total loss because of freeze damage.

Apples and peaches generally are making good growth, it said, but were damaged considerably by frost in the Hancock area May 24.

The weekly weather-crop report said statewide crop prospects are relatively good despite one of the dryest springs on record, the most serious result being a severe shortage of pasture feed supplies.

"Pastures continue to show improvement, but recovery from drought damage is very slow," it said, adding that pasture feed supplies were substantially below average June 1 in the important livestock area of north-central Maryland.

Recent rain promoted the growth of corn and vegetable crops. Strawberries, aided by rain and cool weather, are moving in volume on the Eastern Shore.

Legislators Will Not Hear Pleas Of 4 Teachers

Not Legislative Matter, Says Mandel

BALTIMORE (AP)—Committees of the Legislative Council in meetings Tuesday refused to put off study of a revolving credit bill, postponed a hearing on Assateague Island and refused to take up the case of four teachers dismissed from a state teachers college.

The Judiciary Committee of the council turned down a bid by the Retail Merchants Association to put off introducing a revolving credit bill until the 1965 legislative session.

Andre Brewster, representing the association, said the retailers needed the time to gather evidence on the cost of credit service charges. The committee voted to give the association three months to prepare recommendations for a credit bill.

A bill to limit service charges to 1½ per cent per month on credit accounts was introduced during this year's session of the General Assembly. The limit was reduced to 1 per cent and finally was defeated in the House Judiciary Committee.

Brewster said Tuesday the retailers would lose money with a limit of 1 per cent per month on credit accounts.

The council's Budget and Finance Committee postponed a hearing scheduled for Tuesday on the development of Assateague Island, the sandy strip of seashore just south of Ocean City.

The committee decided to put off the hearing until after June 17, when Gov. Tawes and Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall meet to discuss the island.

William E. Green, an advocate of public development of the island, said earlier that he had been told the hearing would be postponed. The committee set no specific new date for taking up the matter.

The committee also denied a request for a hearing for four teachers who claim their dismissals from Frostburg State Teachers College are in violation of academic freedom.

The teachers filed suit in Circuit Court last week in an attempt to obtain a hearing from the board of trustees of the state teachers colleges. Fred E. Weisga, their attorney, also asked the Legislative Council to review the matter.

"I don't see that this is a legislative matter at all," Del. Marvin Mandel, D-Balto. 5th, chairman of the committee said. "Inasmuch as it is in the courts, I think we should let the courts decide."

In other action, the council's Judiciary Committee postponed until its 1964 session two bills aimed at prohibiting racial discrimination in employment and housing.

LaVale Voters Give Approval To Fire Tax

57 Per Cent Back Proposal

Voters in the area served by the LaVale Volunteer Fire Department yesterday gave their endorsement to a fire tax not to exceed 10 cents on each $100 of assessable property in a special referendum at the Lavale Fire Hall.

Matthew J. Mullaney, president of the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors, received a call 23 minutes after the polls closed informing him of the following complete but unofficial result:

For Fire Tax	699
Against Fire Tax	524

The total vote of 1223 was slightly more than 42 per cent of the 2878 eligible to ballot in the special referendum. Some 57 per cent of the 1223 voting were in favor of the new tax. It primarily involves a large chunk of Election District 29 but also includes small portions of Districts 5 and 6 which get their fire protection from LaVale.

Complete Reversal

Yesterday's result was a complete reversal from four years ago. At the referendum of August 20, 1959, 69.5 per cent of those voting opposed the fire tax. There were 633 opposition votes then and only 276 in support of the tax.

It will be almost a year before the property owners in LaVale see the concrete results of their action yesterday. The new tax will be levied for the first time by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners next April 7. Traditionally, the tax bills are mailed out just before June 1 so the taxpayers have a full month to take advantage of the five per cent discount for prompt payment.

Yesterday's referendum was authorized by House Bill 991, which was introduced last winter in the House of Delegates by four of the six delegates from this county. Delegates Fred H. Anderson, J. Glenn Beall Jr., Noel Speir Cook and David J. Williams sponsored the bill. Delegates Lester B. Reed and Charles M. See did not.

Replaces Canvass

The fire tax approved yesterday will replace the house-to-house canvass conducted by the volunteer firemen each year in LaVale. They will continue to sponsor a festival, auctions and use of the fire hall for dinners to bring in revenue for the department.

At least 30 days before the next tax levying period on April 7, the county commissioners shall certify to the LaVale Volunteer Fire Department the whole valuation of the assessable real property within the area. The department shall then determine the amount necessary to be raised for the ensuing year to maintain and operate the fire department including payment of any existing encumbrances, the purchase, repair, replacement, operation and maintenance of fire-fighting equipment and apparatus, housing of the same and training of firemen.

The firemen also shall deduct from the expenses, all funds received from other sources as donations and as income from the company's activities and any balance in unexpended funds from previous levies.

Light System Election Set In Ellerslie

Registration Ends Tomorrow

Citizens of Ellerslie will go to the polls next Tuesday to vote on a proposal for establishing a street lighting system for the community.

Members of the Citizens Committee of Ellerslie are urging all affected citizens to "get out and vote, whether you are for or against the plan," according to Charles E. Simpkins, chairman.

The special referendum will be held Tuesday, June 11, from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. under the supervision of the Board of Election Supervisors.

About 300 members of the community are eligible to take part in the special election.

Bill Is Signed

The plan for setting up the lighting system is contained in Senate Bill 297, introduced by Sen. George R. Hughes Jr. and signed into law by Governor Tawes on April 30.

Residents living in the area to be served by the proposed street lights still have today and tomorrow in which to register for voting with the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors in the Court House basement. The hours are 9 a.m. until 4 p.m.

Eligible to vote in the referendum are all registered voters who live within the boundaries of Ellerslie, and any person of voting age in the community may register if he has been a resident of Maryland for one year and of the community for six months.

Under the act, the maximum rate what can be assessed to finance the light system is 15 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation, the committee said, and funds collected from the special tax by the County Commissioners can be used only the payment of the costs of the system.

The law also provides that funds turned over to the Citizens Committee of Ellerslie may be used to pay the power company which furnishes the system and that any remaining funds must be carried over and applied to the next year's bill.

Committee Named

The law requires that the treasurer be bonded and that books be audited each year by the county auditor.

For continuity of the committee, the law provides that two members be elected each year, by balloting held the first Monday in March.

Mr. Simpkins said the number of lights in the system will be determined by the committee, guided completely by the needs for lights in the community.

The need for a street lighting system, he said, is great since the system now used is gratis and obsolete, and unless the new program is voted on favorably, the community stands to lose the few lights it now has, since the utility is justified in discontinuing those presently in existence.

The committee said it hopes the new system will not cost taxpayers the maximum but can be held to a level of 10 cents on each $100 of assessable property.

Peach Crop Wiped Out In County

Heavy Frost Causes Damage

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Winter weather almost wiped out the peach crop in Allegany County.

The Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service said Tuesday that the Allegany County peach crop is virtually a total loss because of freeze damage.

Apples and peaches generally are making good growth, it said, but were damaged considerably by frost in the Hancock area May 24.

The weekly weather-crop report said statewide crop prospects are relatively good despite one of the dryest springs on record, the most serious result being a severe shortage of pasture feed supplies.

"Pastures continue to show improvement, but recovery from drought damage is very slow," it said, adding that pasture feed supplies were substantially below average June 1 in the important livestock area of north-central Maryland.

Recent rain promoted the growth of corn and vegetable crops. Strawberries, aided by rain and cool weather, are moving in volume on the Eastern Shore.

Legislators Will Not Hear Pleas Of 4 Teachers

Not Legislative Matter, Says Mandel

BALTIMORE (AP)—Committees of the Legislative Council in meetings Tuesday refused to put off study of a revolving credit bill, postponed a hearing on Assateague Island and refused to take up the case of four teachers dismissed from a state teachers college.

The Judiciary Committee of the council turned down a bid by the Retail Merchants Association to put off introducing a revolving credit bill until the 1965 legislative session.

Andre Brewster, representing the association, said the retailers needed the time to gather evidence on the cost of credit service charges. The committee voted to give the association three months to prepare recommendations for a credit bill.

A bill to limit service charges to 1½ per cent per month on credit accounts was introduced during this year's session of the General Assembly. The limit was reduced to 1 per cent and finally was defeated in the House Judiciary Committee.

Brewster said Tuesday the retailers would lose money with a limit of 1 per cent per month on credit accounts.

The council's Budget and Finance Committee postponed a hearing scheduled for Tuesday on the development of Assateague Island, the sandy strip of seashore just south of Ocean City.

The committee decided to put off the hearing until after June 17, when Gov. Tawes and Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall meet to discuss the island.

William E. Green, an advocate of public development of the island, said earlier that he had been told the hearing would be postponed. The committee set no specific new date for taking up the matter.

The committee also denied a request for a hearing for four teachers who claim their dismissals from Frostburg State Teachers College are in violation of academic freedom.

The teachers filed suit in Circuit Court last week in an attempt to obtain a hearing from the board of trustees of the state teachers colleges. Fred E. Weisga, their attorney, also asked the Legislative Council to review the matter.

"I don't see that this is a legislative matter at all," Del. Marvin Mandel, D-Balto. 5th, chairman of the committee said. "Inasmuch as it is in the courts, I think we should let the courts decide."

In other action, the council's Judiciary Committee postponed until its 1964 session two bills aimed at prohibiting racial discrimination in employment and housing.

The committee also postponed action on a bill to provide public defenders for indigent defendants until the Maryland Bar Association meets on the matter.

A special subcommittee was appointed to prepare a bill to shorten the time for introducing bills during 90-day sessions of the General Assembly.

A group of bills to reorganize the Board of Natural Resources and concerning other conservation matters was held by the committee for later hearings.
